FIFTY-FIVE MORE DOUKHOBORS SENTENCED

Approves Plane Base Conference Plane Rights In Inner Harbor To Be Threshed Out

Amicable Settlement Satisfactory to Both Marine and Aviation Interests Sought in Round Table Talk Here Shortly: Minister of Marine Grants Conference

SEEK LIFTING OF HARBOR BAN

Confidence that a basis of agreement for the operation of seaplanes in Victoria Harbor can be reached was expressed by interested parties this morning following the receipt of word yesterday from Hon. Alfred Durand, Minister of Marine, approving a round-table conference on the problem which has existed here for three years.

Col. A. W. R. Wilby, marine agent for the Federal Government, has been authorized to arrange the conference, word from the minister stated. Representatives of the leading marine interests, aviation interests, the army department, marine department and civil air board will take part.

In his letter authorizing the conference the minister stated, in answer to a request from the city: "I have made approach to the various interests along the lines suggested by you, all of whom have expressed their willingness to participate in a round table conference with a view to arriving at some definite and satisfactory conclusion in this matter. I have instructed my agent at Victoria to arrange for it at the earliest possible moment."

NOT USED NOW
As a result of the controversy between aviation and marine interests for the last three years, Victoria Harbor is now closed to seaplane traffic and the service now operating between here and Vancouver has been forced to use Esquimalt Harbor. It is claimed, on behalf of the air interests, that the inner harbor can be safely used, providing a much more efficient service by landing and taking off with passengers practically in the heart of the city. Marine operators have taken the view that seaplane traffic is dangerous to shipping.

AGREEMENT SOUGHT
The conference between these various interests is designed to settle the long-standing dispute once and for all. Both sides recognize that the other has legitimate arguments in favor of their respective views, but it is hoped to reach an understanding under which seaplanes could use the harbor upon a basis satisfactory to the shipping operators.

GEO. G. BUSHBY CALLED TO REST

Grandson of Sir James Douglas Succumbs in Victoria After Long Illness

Was Known as "Mr. Thrift" During Campaign in 1921

A duk with pioneer days in British Columbia was served by the death yesterday evening of George Gordon Bushby, son of the late Hon. T. A. Bushby, pioneer legislator of British Columbia and grandson of Sir James Douglas, first governor of this province. Mr. Bushby passed away at the Jubilee Hospital in his sixty-third year after a lingering illness.

A native son of Victoria, Mr. Bushby was sent to England at the age of eight years for his education, and returned as a youth to San Francisco to take up an apprenticeship in engineering. At the conclusion of his training, he returned to Victoria to join his brother-in-law, the late W. Fishburne Bullen and Harry P. Bullen, marine engineers. In 1898 he founded a branch of the firm in Vancouver, remaining in charge there until 1919, when he disposed of his interest.

"MR. THRIFT"
Coming back to Victoria, Mr. Bushby resided here until 1921, during which time he launched a successful campaign, on behalf of the Dominion Government, for the selling of "thrift" savings stamps in the schools and to

CONFERENCE STIRS HOPE

Ottawa Showing Keen Interest in Empire Gathering, Says Senator King

People Swinging to View of Lower Tariffs, He Says; Cuts in Expenditures

The feeling is general there must be an international adjustment of finances before any great change can be looked for in present conditions, Senator J. H. King, who has returned from Ottawa, and is now at his home on Rockland Avenue, remarked to-day.

Naturally everyone hoped for an early change, but until there were more definite indications of a turn of the tide the situation would not be improved by predicting an early return to prosperity, Senator King said.

The Imperial Economic Conference was the subject of considerable discussion in Ottawa, the Senator said. High hopes were entertained that Canada and the rest of the Commonwealth would benefit as the result of the free interchange of views from the representatives attending.

Cuts in expenditures for federal works in British Columbia were in line with reductions throughout the Dominion, Senator King remarked in pointing out that the estimates for general purposes, apart from those for the relief of unemployment, were low this year.

With the subject of tariffs brought prominently to the fore through the falling off of the outputs of Canadian factories and through the Empire Economic Conference, Senator King remarked the appointment of the tariff board of the people to-day was increasing in favor of lower tariffs.

Supplementary Appropriations Requested By Government Include $100,000 For Building Site in Vancouver

Ottawa, May 19.—Supplementary estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1933, totaling $6,620,472, were tabled in the Commons at the opening this forenoon, by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance.

The largest single item in the supplementary estimates is one of $650,000 to provide for payments in connection with the movement of coal under conditions prescribed by order-in-council. A further amount of $500,000 for radio service is asked, and an additional sum of $100,000 for expenses in connection with the coming Imperial Economic Conference also is asked. Provision to the extent of $50,000 for expenses of the royal commission on transportation is proposed. The sum of $55,000 to provide for maintenance and control of properties under the direction of the Ottawa federal district commission is listed.

FOR FARMS
The appropriations for agriculture in the supplementary estimates amount to $807,972. Contained in that amount is a further sum of $315,000 for administration of the Destructive Insect and Pest Act, for administration of the Animal Contagious Diseases Act and the Meat and Canned Foods Act, a further amount of $250,000 is included. The sum of $90,000 as a further amount for assistance to farms and exhibitions is provided.

For experimental farms a further sum of $50,000 appears, and $30,000 to be appropriated to erect an onion warehouse at Kelowna, B.C. This is a vote. An amount of $125,000 is appropriated for the payment of grants

"Jafsie" Rests While Abductors Hunted

Aged New Yorker Advised By Physician to Conserve Strength; Will Soon Rejoin Police in Search For the Slaying of Lindbergh Baby

Associated Press
Hempstead, N.Y., May 19.—Superintendent of State Police H. Norman Schwarzkopf to-day announced there was "nothing that would in any way link John H. Curtis of Norfolk, Virginia, with the actual abduction of the Lindbergh baby and the collection of the ransom money."

Curtis was in jail to-day at Flemington, having been put there yesterday following his confession he had perpetrated a hoax on the Lindberghs in claiming falsely he was in direct communication with the abductors of the baby.

After the confession, investigation was immediately begun as to Curtis' whereabouts on the night of March 1, when the baby was abducted and the night of April 2, when the $50,000 ransom was paid by Dr. John F. Condon, Col. Schwarzkopf's statement to-day came as a result of that investigation.

After exonerating Curtis of implication in the actual abduction and collection of the ransom, Col. Schwarzkopf said Dr. Condon had been "most co-operative with police" and had offered to come to Hempstead or go anywhere else with the investigators.

ADVISED TO REST
"A message received from his daughter this morning," Col. Schwarzkopf said, "indicates that Dr. Condon's physician has ordered him to rest for several days before his activities are resumed. As soon as Dr. Condon is rested, we will continue taking him around."

QUESTION AVOIDED
Col. Schwarzkopf's statement also made comment on the telegram from Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, former Canadian rector, in which the Norfolk, Virginia, associate in the Curtis activities declined to come to Hempstead, but said he would give all information to police going to Norfolk.

"Under these circumstances," said Col. Schwarzkopf, it will not be possible to confront Mr. Curtis with Mr. Peacock, which at this time we are very anxious to do. There is no legal way in which we can force Mr. Peacock's presence in either Hempstead or Flemington. The fact that Mr. Peacock requested the deposit of $25,000 in Norfolk is substantiated by Col. Lindbergh and others who were present when Mr. Peacock made the request."

Newark Police Chief Tells of Letter Received During Lindbergh Abduction Hunt

Associated Press
Trenton, N.J., May 19.—Chief of Police William Walter disclosed to-day that ten days after the abduction of the Lindbergh baby he received an anonymous letter from Buffalo, N.Y., saying the baby might be found by following the Lindbergh telephone lines. He turned the letter over to state police.

The body of the baby was found a week ago near the special police telephone lines which had been laid to the Lindbergh garage.

WORLD NEEDS FRESH START

Sir Harold Beauchamp Says Debt Conference Essential to Economic Recovery

People of New Zealand Are Behind New Trade Treaty With Canada

"Recovery from this world-wide economic depression, in my opinion, will not be possible until all the nations get together and settle the war debt question," said Sir Harold Beauchamp of Wellington, New Zealand, on arrival here to-day by the Aorangi.

He believes that cancellation of war debts and a fresh start with a clean slate is the only real remedy for the world's ills.

"Repeated moratoriums will not help the situation and would mean cancellation ultimately," he said. "All the nations are bankrupt. You can't get away from that. Surely it is time then for the creditor and debtor nations to get together in conference and settle this thing so that the world can attempt to get back on its feet."

As chairman of the Bank of New Zealand Sir Harold has achieved international fame as a financier. He is a former member of the New Zealand House of Representatives and is director of a host of financial and business corporations.

COL. J. A. HALL DIED YESTERDAY

Distinguished Scientist and Soldier Succumbs at Esquimalt; Here Many Years

Was Commanding Officer of Fifth Regiment and 88th Fusiliers

Lieut.-Col. John A. Hall, noted scientist and former commander of the Fifth Regiment, C.G.A., and the 88th Fusiliers, succumbed after a long illness yesterday at his home, "Longstone," Old Esquimalt Road.

His death removes one of Western Canada's pioneer chemists, he having been associated with the late Frederick Moore and the late J. W. Fisher in the establishment of the former Victoria Chemical Works, one of its kind in British Columbia and one of the first in Canada.

A native of Blackpool, England, where he was born nearly sixty-three years ago, Col. Hall showed early promise as a brilliant student of chemistry and mathematics and was a gold medalist in chemistry at Owens College, Manchester. After graduating, he lectured in science at the Manchester Polytechnic School and later carried on research work at the Creighton Aniline Works in England.

WILL VOTE ON AIRPORT LEASE

By-law on Gordon Head Project Goes Before City Council to-morrow

The City Council, in regular session to-morrow afternoon, will vote on a by-law covering the leasing of the Gordon Head airport from now until the end of 1933.

The measure will be introduced by the business and trade development committee which has had charge of negotiations for the lease of the property.

Although definite figures could not be obtained to-day it is understood the lease provides for a rental of $800 for the remainder of this year and approximately $1,000 next year. It includes property held by four different owners.

This plan to provide the city with an airport has been undertaken on the understanding that the Saanich municipal council agrees to do certain work in the way of drainage and grading the runways which will put the ground in condition to receive a license from the air department.

BOLD ROBBERY IN VANCOUVER

Two Bandits Take Money From W. Kitchen, P.G.E. Director, in His Home

Also Take $34 From Son-in-law, Called By Telephone From Nearby House

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 19.—Two young armed bandits held up Willard Kitchen, a director of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, in his home on Marine Drive here yesterday evening and took $30 from him and $34 from his son-in-law, W. E. Jardine.

"They appeared to be very well-mannered," Mr. Jardine commented this forenoon. "They even kept their caps off while they were in the house." Mr. Kitchen answered a knock at the front door and was met by the two men, armed with revolvers. They told him to hold up his hands, and while one took $30 from his pockets the other went upstairs in search of jewelry.

STRENGTHENED BY BANDIT
Mrs. Kitchen, who was in another part of the house, suspected something was wrong and telephoned Mr. Jardine to come over. The latter, not suspecting a hold-up, walked into the house and was in turn ordered to "stick 'em up." He did not immediately comply, but there was no insistence that he should. His arrival disturbed the man upstairs, who came down, and the two relieved Mr. Jardine of $34.

The pair then backed out of the house and escaped in an automobile.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 19.—Lee Yuk, aged seventy, was attacked and brutally beaten by a thug in front of his store on Union Street at 6 o'clock this morning. The assailant was accompanied by a woman companion, who stood by while the aged Chinese was slugged and kicked after he had said he had no money.

A Schindler, East Forty-fourth Avenue, was attacked by two men after he descended from a street car at Carleton and Kingsway at 8 o'clock yesterday evening. He was robbed of $40.

Clothing and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars were stolen from the home of Philip Pearlman, Parker Street.

Tires, batteries and tools were moved from automobiles by burglars who broke into the premises of Buck Harrington on Granville Street while tools were stolen from J. Armstrong on West Georgia.

Alex Shupke, Balmoral Hotel, lost $10 to a pickpocket.

Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam

Associated Press
Hawbuck Heights, N.J., May 19.—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam took off from the Pterodrome airport to-day for Harbor Grace, Nfld., on the first leg of what she said she hoped would be the first solo flight by a woman across the Atlantic.

The take-off was at 2:16 p.m. E.S.T. (11:16 a.m. Victoria time). To-morrow night, weather permitting, she plans to soar out over the ocean to follow along the perilous path through the skies she helped to break four years ago with two male companions—the first woman to fly across the Atlantic.

Little "Douks" Start Hunger Strike Here

Ten-year-old Girl Leader Orders Six Other Doukhobor Children to Refuse Food at Orphanage, But Appetites End Strike as Soon as Leader Is Removed.

Victoria's Doukhobors went on hunger strike yesterday.

But they are eating everything that is handed to them to-day.

The seven little children who were brought from the undressed Doukhobor area at Thrums and placed in the B.C. Protestant Orphanage were urged by their leader, a ten-year-old girl, to refuse to eat their food. Despite their childish appetites they strictly observed the orders of the young Amazon who led them.

As soon as the attendants at the orphanage learned of the youngsters' refusal to eat their food they quietly took the young leader to another part of the building. When the leader's absence was noted the other little Doukhobors found the craving for food too strong for further observance of their orders and tucked into the spread before them until there not a crumb left.

Victoria's Doukhobors went on hunger strike yesterday.

But they are eating everything that is handed to them to-day.

U.S. Senate Committee Tracing Radio and Other Big Operations

Associated Press
Washington, May 19.—A radio pool in 1929 which netted the operator a $5,000,000 profit was in the immediate objective to-day in the United States Senate banking committee's investigation of the New York stock market.

William A. Gray, committee counsel, announced before the hearings were resumed that Thomas Bragg, James McConochie and Esmond O'Brien would be questioned on operations of the pool.

The committee also had information from which it expected to develop the existence of a general asphalt pool, a Chrysler pool and an Anaconda Copper pool.

Other cases which would be developed, Gray said, involved the Godman-Sachs Trading Corporation, Indian Motorcycles and General Foods.

Eighty-two Women Brought Before Magistrate This Afternoon Following Sentencing of Fifty-five Men This Morning

ANTONE STRAELOFF
ONE OF SENTENCED

Fiats From Attorney-General For Trial of Several Men and Women Awaited

Canadian Press
Nelson, B.C., May 19.—Fifty-five more Doukhobor men, admitting they had paraded in the nude at Thrums last Sunday, were sentenced this morning to three years in the penitentiary. In only one instance did a member of the Sons of Freedom sect declare he was not nude, but when identified by police officers he readily admitted his guilt.

Antone Straeloff, former lieutenant of the first Peter Verigin, community leader killed in an explosion at Farron in 1924, was among the nudists sentenced to-day. Straeloff joined the Sons of Freedom after being shamed in the reorganization of the community under Peter Verigin the younger.

302 SENTENCED
With the sentencing of the fifty-five men this forenoon the total sentenced reached 302 men and women, of whom 118 are at Oakalla Jail, near Vancouver. In all 216 men and eighty-six women have received prison terms of three years. This morning's court session lasted just thirty-five minutes.

Early this morning one of the women awaiting trial gave birth to a baby boy. The woman was rushed to a hospital and the child was not born in jail. The mother and babe were both doing well this afternoon, it was reported.

Trials of eighty-two women were scheduled to be carried through this afternoon.

COURT TO RULE ON FREE TRIP

Morris Holiday Plan to Be Judged in Higher Courts

Preliminary hearing of E. A. Morris Limited on a charge of conducting a "scheme for disposal of property by tickets," laid by police in connection with the "Free Trip to Honolulu" plan of the firm was held in the City Police Court this morning and at the conclusion the firm was committed for trial by higher court.

J. M. Mellis, local manager, and Frank Edwards, a clerk in the store, testified with other witnesses to lay details of the scheme before the court. Inspector John T. Boules and Sergeant Arthur Bishop were the police witnesses.

The firm's premises at 1115 Government Street were raided by the police on April 28 and a number of sheets outlining the offer were seized in connection with other documents relating to the scheme. These sheets were distributed free to any person asking for them. Each week ten prizes of $1 each were distributed and all sheets given out during the celebration of the firm's fortieth anniversary were eligible for the free trip. Mr. Mellis said the weekly prizes were chosen so that approximately one number out of each thousand would get an award.

C. L. Harrison confuted the prosecution and Fred C. Elliott appeared for the defence. The formal commitment was made without any comment on the part of the magistrate other than that he thought there was a case to meet.

Hero of Alaskan Plague Fights For Life In Death Valley

The hero of North America's coldest trails is fighting for health and strength in the west's hottest climate.
He is Dr. L. E. Benson, born in Wisconsin and educated in Cincinnati, O.
Out along the desolate road that leads across the burning waste of Death Valley to Las Vegas, Dr. Benson is seeking to rebuild his lungs which were frozen during the epidemic that was him a resolution of honor from the Alaskan Legislature.

In 1928 a fierce epidemic of small-pox swept through the Eskimo colonies of northern Alaska. There was no medical help and meager supplies. It allowed to go unchecked the epidemic threatened to wipe out hundreds of natives and perhaps infest the centres of white population.

With a guide to help him Dr. Benson traveled over 1,600 miles of snow-choked trails and vaccinated nearly 2,000 Eskimos and whites. The epidemic was checked.

At one time he was lost for three days in a blizzard. They had no tent and sought shelter with their dogs in snow caves that had to be changed frequently to avoid being buried.

After the storm the temperature dropped abruptly to 70 below zero.
The little expedition pushed on,
500 miles north of Nome. Nearly exhausted, Dr. Benson collapsed by the side of the trail. He was unable to keep his mouth closed and took three or four gasps into his lungs.

The air burned as though I had inhaled a flame," he says of the experience. He knew that the sensitive coating of his lungs had been bitten by the cold.

But he kept on with his work and in the end was voted awards by the city of Candle, Deering and Buckman City.
He was hailed as a hero, but he knew

DR. BENSON

that years of patient struggle for his health lay ahead.

At last he reached Death Valley, with its miles of chalk-white sand and bleached out salt beds. Under the blazing sun and in the dry air he built a lodge where he is making his home.

It was Dr. Benson who blazed the famous trail through the White Pass into the Yukon district in 1898. Nearly 13,000 settlers followed him into that of Candle, Deering and Buckman City.
Arctic land of plenty to struggle, starve and die.

The whole of the downtown section

Streamers across the streets, decorated light standards and flags of all na-

Owners of large buildings have been asked by the celebration committee to decorating up the city and have consented to help by draping the structures with flags and streamers.

Shopkeepers also have an opportunity to give the business section a carnival aspect by decorating their store windows with drapes of bright colors along patriotic lines.

In the evenings the city will be

BABY IS STOLEN AND RECOVERED

Two-year-old Boy Taken
From Home, in Ohio Discovered Beside Fence

Associated Press
Steubenville, O., May 19.—Half an hour after he had been stolen from his crib, two-year-old Eugene Swearingen was found Tuesday evening behind a rail fence 500 yards from his home at Warrenton, near here, it was revealed yesterday afternoon.
He had a bruise over his left eye.

from which he was recovering to-day. The abduction followed three demands for $500 made on his parents. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Swearingen, had been watching the child closely since abduction threat notes were received two weeks ago. Late Tuesday evening they heard a noise which they attributed to a dog, but did not investigate immediately. When they went to the baby's crib the child was gone.
About 200 persons turned out in a search and the child was found behind the fence. Officials said the child either had been struck by the abductor or injured when dropped.

START MADE ON FARM SCHEME

Alberta Collecting Information on Lands Available For Unemployment Relief

Canadian Press
Edmonton, May 19.—The Dominion Government is prepared to embark on a joint land settlement scheme with the provinces and municipalities to relieve the unemployment situation. According to a letter received by Premier Brownlee of Alberta from Hon. W. A. Gordon, Dominion Minister of Labor, Mr. Gordon's letter included several conditions under which the Dominion administration would join in the scheme to place selected unemployed on the land. One condition is that the Dominion would pay one-third of a total allowance to each settler of $600, the other two-thirds to be borne by the province and municipality interested. A maximum of $500 would be allotted in one year, with $100 reserved for subsistence in the second year. No part of the money advanced would be paid for rent or purchase of land.

COMMITTEE PLAN
In addition, the letter added, there must be an advisory committee appointed in each province on which there would be a representative of the Soldier Settlement Board and a representative of the colonization department of the two continental railways. Any applications for land settlement would have to be approved by the advisory board before being sent to Ottawa.
Premier Brownlee, in announcing receipt of the letter, explained it would be impossible to convene the proposed advisory committee and select desirable applicants in time for them to settle and sow and harvest a crop this year. He added, however, that his government had started to select an advisory committee and was collecting information on land available for settlement. Alberta authorities, he concluded, were laying their plans as quickly as possible in an effort to relieve the unemployment situation.

GREENLAND IS LECTURE TOPIC

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 19.—Dr. Albert C. Seward, world famous botanist of Cambridge University and former president of the International Botanical Congress, lectured on Greenland before a large audience of members of the B.C. Academy of Science and the Vancouver Natural History Society at the University of British Columbia yesterday evening. Professor Seward paid a brief visit to Vancouver during the course of a continent-wide tour. He left this morning for the east to open the new laboratory of botany of the University of Toronto and to attend the sessions of the Royal Society of Canada in Ottawa.

The speaker outlined a trip made by him to Greenland in 1921 and showed by lantern slides the contrast between the present-day vegetation and that of 100,000 years ago as revealed by fossils found in rock deposits.

Eureka! Elixir May Revive Dead Trees; Table Legs Sprout

Fred Seaman, inventor of an "elixir" spray for trees, with an orange tree which was apparently dead four years ago. It has burst forth in vigorous bloom after an application of the spray, it is said. Below is an old table leg showing sprouts which are said to have formed after spraying.

PRESTO! Chango!—and a dead tree branch that has been the leg of a rustic table for quite a few years took life and gave forth shoots!
It all came about after Fred Seaman, living about four miles from here, sprayed the table leg with a chemical "elixir" he has perfected for the purpose. The chemical has been tested by the division of chemistry of the State Department of Agriculture, and officials have issued Seaman a permit to manufacture and sell his concoction. Hundred of persons doubting the value of Seaman's chemical, which is applied in the form of a spray, have witnessed affidavits signed by neighbors that his experiments are authentic.
In addition to the table leg, the inventor has applied the spray to the cane of an old flower basket. Tiny buds can be seen sprouting from the cane. He has applied the spray to an old orange tree that apparently died four years ago. To-day the tree is alive and thriving.
To test the fluid, Seaman applied it to some of his fig trees. Those to which the spray was applied are in full leaf well ahead of those which were denied the spray.

INUKAI FUNERAL HELD AT TOKIO

Body of Murdered Premier Cremated After Brief Ceremony

Canadian Press
Tokio, May 19.—A simple funeral service, attended by 800 of Japan's leading public men, who crowded into the public hall of the Premier's residence, marked to-day the nation's farewell to the late Premier Suoyoshi Inukai.
The aged Mr. Inukai was slain last Sunday by a group of young military and naval officers.
The Suiyukai Party, which the slain Premier headed during the last two and a half years of his half century in public life, conducted the funeral service.
The ceremony consisted merely of the reading of messages extolling the virtues and services of the deceased. They were read by the heads of the Suiyukai and Minseitō parties in both houses of Parliament while messengers representing the Emperor burned incense before the altar on which the plain wood casket rested.
The general public did not participate in the funeral ceremony and there was no procession and no outside ceremony.
Late this afternoon the body was taken unostentatiously to a crematorium. Part of the ashes are to be buried in the Chiyogami Cemetery here and the rest at the late Premier's birthplace at Okayama.

Arrowsmith Mill Destroyed By Fire

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, May 19.—Fire yesterday evening totally destroyed the mill of the Arrowsmith Lumber Company on the E and N. right-of-way here. The mill has been operated by a Hindu company for the last four years. It is estimated that the loss will be $25,000.

FARMERS' HOPES FOR CONFERENCE

Canadian Press
Wellington, N.Z., May 19.—The New Zealand cabinet yesterday warned primary producers throughout the country not to expect too much from the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa in July.
The warning said that no matter how successful the conference might be, it could not be regarded as a medium for ushering in suddenly a period of high prices and general prosperity.
Informed circles said they understood Premier G. W. Forbes held the question of currency, which might be brought up at the conference, equally important as that of tariffs.

Former Company Men Sentenced

Los Angeles, May 19.—James A. Talbot, former chairman of the board of the Richfield Oil Company, convicted of grand theft of $109,000, was sentenced yesterday to two to twenty years in San Quentin prison. Motion for new trial was denied and notice of appeal was filed.
Raymond W. McKee, former controller and vice-president of the company, was sentenced to two to twenty years for grand theft of $22,500.
Clarence M. Fuller, former president, was sentenced to two to twenty years for theft of $130,325.

CANADIAN IS HELD IN CHINA

Rev. H. S. Ferguson, Missionary, in Hands of Red Bandits

Associated Press
Nanking, China, May 19.—Safety of many foreigners, most of them missionaries, was threatened to-day at Pengpu by a host of 20,000 Chinese Communists which was overrunning northern Anhwei province.
The Communists had surrounded a force of 7,000 Nationalist troops west of Pengpu and threatened to cut the Tientsin-Pukou Railway, south of there, blocking the arrival of reinforcements to aid the embattled government troops.
The Communists, who have been plundering wide areas in Anhwei, Honan and other provinces in Central China, caused a general exodus of foreigners and Chinese alike, while most of the missionaries already have left northern Anhwei.
One missionary, however, was captured. He is Rev. H. S. Ferguson, a Canadian from Toronto, attached to the China Inland Mission. He was taken at Chengyangkuan, near Pengpu, May 16.

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 19.—Rev. H. S. Ferguson, reported captured by Chinese Communists at Chengyangkuan on May 16, is a veteran missionary attached to the China Inland Mission. He has been in China since 1906.
Rev. E. A. Brownlee, secretary of the local branch of the China Inland Mission, to-day stated the local office had received no details other than a cable announcing his capture by Communists.
Mr. Ferguson is a widower, his wife having died last year while engaged in missionary work with her husband in China.

FARM VOTES CLOSELY STUDIED

Opposition Members in Commons
Ask Many Questions of Minister on Estimates

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 19.—Estimates of the Department of Agriculture came before the Commons yesterday and Hon. Robert Weir, the minister, was called on to answer many questions asked by a crossfire. Progress was slow and punctuated by criticism of government policies.
Hon. James Macdonald, Liberal, North Bruce, Ont., former Minister of Trade and Commerce, advocated an agricultural commission patterned after the Canada Wheat Board, to market produce. Every possible assistance should be given, he said, to induce the producers to grade and prepare their goods.
A resolution involving expenditure of $1,380,000 in the livestock branch, caused Robert McKenzie, Liberal, Assiniboia, Sask., to criticize the general agricultural policy of the government. In 1929, he said, the livestock owned in Saskatchewan had an estimated value of $850,000,000. In 1931 it had fallen to $687,000,000, and he was convinced that at present the total value was no more than half the value in 1929.

Under these circumstances, Mr. McKenzie thought it was regrettable there should be any great reduction in the agricultural estimates.
INTEREST ON LOANS
Mr. McKenzie spoke also of the interest charges on farmers' loans, which he declared were excessive. He charged the government with setting the pace for the banks by paying high interest on government bonds.
Mr. McKenzie expressed the view that the idea of a marketing board was a popular one throughout the country. He believed its popularity, however, was based on the fact that the people did not know what would result from the establishment of such a board.
For himself, he had not much faith in it.

The minister would be better occupied in establishing a commission to investigate the excessive spread between the raw materials supplied by the farmers and the finished products purchased by the consumers, asserted Mr. McKenzie. He instanced wool farmers in his constituency had sold wool for as low as 4 cents a pound. Some who were more lucky had received from 5 to 7 cents. But when a farmer came to purchase a suit of woolen underwear, he was required to pay more than $2 for it.
Objection to the encouragement given by the government to people to take up farming was voiced by W. H. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni.
BUTTER EXPORTS
E. J. Young, Liberal, Weyburn, Sask., opposed the minister's plan, propounded the other night, for bonusing butter exports by means of a tax of one-tenth of a cent on dairy butter made in this country. The result would be over-production, he said. That was the "Paterson scheme," which operated in Australia and against which Canada had specifically legislated two years ago. Other countries would do the same against Canada, said Mr. Young.
If the business of bonusing butter exports was taken up by the government it would be necessary to do the same for cheese and condensed milk, even if it was not forced to go farther and take in other commodities, declared Mr. Malcolm.
Any plan the government brought in based on the Canada wheat board principle should command the support of every member of the House, Mr. Malcolm thought. But to try to help one industry at the cost of others would be to invite difficulties. "I say to the minister," Mr. Malcolm continued, "that he should not depart from the functions of government, which are to do all possible for the producer."

DAWSON MAN IS FACING TRIAL

Canadian Press

ISLAND POWER UNIT PLANNED

Powerhouse Installation at Port Alberni By National Utilities to Cost $70,000

Tenders for Construction Will Be Called Here By Early Part of June

Port Alberni, May 19.—Extensions to the local power plant involving an expenditure of $70,000 will be undertaken by the National Utilities Corporation Ltd., subsidiary to the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. It is announced by E. J. Cronk, district manager.

Plans have been prepared by the engineering department of the B.C. Electric Railway at Victoria and tenders for the construction of the new power unit will be called early in June.

Mr. Cronk anticipates that the contract for the erection of the power house building will be awarded to upland contractors. The installation of the Diesel engine and the necessary electrical equipment will be carried out by the construction staff of the B.C. Electric Railway Company's engineering organization.

FIREPROOF BUILDING
In order to accommodate this additional unit a modern fireproof power house building will be erected. This structure will consist of a steel frame and brick building, some thirty by sixty-five feet in dimensions, immediately adjoining the present structure. The present and proposed power house structures will be so interconnected that the operation staff will have full operation control of the old and new plants by means of modern control apparatus that will make possible the interchange of the several units comprising the plant.

The Diesel engine of the new unit is a product of Messrs. McIntosh & Seymour, with a rated capacity of 565 b.h.p. and an operating speed of 225 r.p.m. It is a vertical type, five-cylinder, four-cycle air injection single acting Diesel engine, directly connected to a Westinghouse "AC" synchronous generator with rating of 500 k.v.a. at 60 per cent power factor, 2,400 volts, three phase, sixty cycles power, together with switching and control equipment of the most modern type.

In addition to the generating equipment, the plant will be provided with a centrifugal oil separator of ample size for cleaning all lubricating oils used in the entire plant. The plant enlargement programme also includes provision for the installation of feeder regulators on two circuits within the distribution systems of the cities of Port Alberni and Alberni. This will insure closer regulation in the voltage service within the systems.

TO MEET DEMANDS
It has been estimated that the undertaking will entail a capital expenditure of $70,000. Mr. Cronk states that the fee for the construction is necessary to meet the growing demands of the Alberni district.

While the existing plant is of ample capacity for present loadings, there were occasions last January when the capacity of the plant was taxed to the full. The proposed addition will not only provide power to overcome any possibility of falling short of peak requirements, but will also assure an ample margin of power for future demands as they may arise.

It is worthy of note that the new unit alone will be able, during the greater part of the year, to operate and carry the full power requirements of the district served. Its installation also will permit the carrying out of an extensive overhaul of existing units. The plant will be available for operation early in the fall.

ONE HURT IN CAR'S PLUNGE

Woman Taken to Hospital After Spectacular Mishap on West Saanich Road

Mrs. Sarah Hathaway, of Keating, is in the Jubilee Hospital to-day with a broken leg following a spectacular automobile mishap.

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the West Saanich highway at Head's Hill, when a car driven by Robert Warren, 29 Cambridge Street, got out of control, swerved and shot off the road, dropping off an embankment. The three occupants of the car were miraculously unhurt and three children narrowly escaped injury.

According to the police report, Mr. Warren, with his brother and friend, Rupert Bainbridge, were travelling down the hill, coming to the city. The machine started to swerve and the driver applied the brakes, with the result that the car swung around.

Mrs. Hathaway, walking with her daughter at the road side, threw the child clear of the auto's path but was herself struck.

The car skidded off the road, turned over several times, going down a fifteen-foot bank and came to rest against the residence of F. Garrett. Though shaken the occupants were unhurt.

Two of Mr. Garrett's children were playing outside the house. The elder boy heard the noise of the plunging car and leaped to safety just in time. The other child was standing beside the house only a few feet from the place the car stopped.

Mrs. Hathaway was conveyed to the Jubilee Hospital after first aid had been rendered by Constable J. Bull and Dr. Beacher, of Salmon Arm, who was aboard a passing bus.

Dr. A. C. Sinclair attended her in hospital.

JOBLESS RIOT IN NEW ZEALAND

Auckland, N.Z., May 19.—An undetermined number of unemployed men rioted to-day at the little New Zealand mining town of Huntly, raided a large store after the owner had refused to give them food free, and helped themselves to whatever they could carry away.

Police reinforcements were rushed to the scene and numerous arrests were expected.

Leaders of the mobs said the goods were being taken in no spirit of ill will, but merely because the rioters had no intention of going hungry any longer.

BUSH FIRES STILL RAGE

Potential Danger Spots in Quebec and New Brunswick; Nova Scotia Situation Good

Canadian Press

Montreal, May 19.—Fire today continued to eat into bush lands in many parts of eastern Canada and large crews of volunteer firefighters, under the direction of forest rangers, were engaged in a stern fight to save valuable timber.

New Brunswick and Quebec provinces were faced with potential danger at spots scattered far apart, but in Nova Scotia it was believed the situation was completely in hand.

Yielding to requests from hundreds of volunteer fishermen, the Quebec Department of Lands and Forests reopened the forests to sportsmen today under ordinary spring, summer and fall regulations. Entrance to public lands north of the Ottawa River and the Laurentian Mountains had been forbidden when the fire situation appeared to be getting completely out of hand.

In New Brunswick a squad of men were going by water to the inaccessible territory in northwest Northumberland County to handle a stubborn fire, while several other points in the province were scenes of fire fighting activity.

RAILWAY MENACED

The situation was still grave in the vicinity of Rouyn and Noranda, Quebec, near the Ottawa River, although information reached forestry headquarters in Quebec City was to the effect the towns themselves were not endangered. Damage to the Canadian National Railway line along the twenty-five-mile stretch between Rouyn and Clerby, however, was feared as the flames licked their way along the right-of-way.

Two trappers dwelling on the shore of Dufault Lake, just north of Rouyn, were feared missing by John Henry, fisherman and trapper. With his family, Henry was forced to flee from his burning dwelling on Dufault Lake and reached Rouyn yesterday.

Police investigation into the series of bush fires which three times threatened Rouyn and Noranda with destruction in the last ten days was under way today. Search was being made for a man of alleged communist leanings in connection with the outbreaks. John Rudy, who allegedly had confessed starting fires, was held at Rouyn.

Hundreds of miles from the mining communities, isolated settlements on the north shore of St. Lawrence River and on Gaspé Peninsula also were menaced by flames. Reports received in Quebec City said a fire twenty miles from Bersimis in Saguenay County on the north shore had destroyed nine settlers' homes and might threaten the village of Bersimis unless checked.

MOVEMENTS CHECKED

The full statement as it applied to Curtis was as follows:

"On April 2, Mr. Curtis was in the company of Lieut. Richards and his actions are accounted for. There is nothing that would in any way link him with the actual abductors and the collection of the ransom money."

"When Mr. Curtis was first questioned he manifested concern for the safety of his family and we requested the director of public safety, Col. Charles Borland of Norfolk, Va., to protect the Curtis family. No reports have been received that any threats have been made against any member of his family."

"It is understood Mr. Curtis has a brother, George, who, however, lives in or near Norfolk, and nowhere in the vicinity of New York."

"At no time did Mr. Curtis see any of the actual ransom notes, or the signature on them. In fact, it was the request of Col. Lindbergh for actual truth of his negotiations with the abductors that was the basis of the desire to have Mr. Curtis bring from his alleged kidnappers a letter of communication bearing the signature known to be that of the kidnappers."

BAIL EFFORTS

Flemington, N.J., May 19.—Rumors were current today that attempts were being made to secure a bond for Hon. H. Curtis of Norfolk, Virginia, jailed yesterday for hoaxing the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

No confirmation of the rumors could be obtained. The bail under which Curtis was held was set at $10,000.

Hopewell, N.J., May 19.—Justice today to-day with a windmill with a boatbuilder's amazing deceit. It was the seventy-ninth day of repeating sorrow and multiplied horror at "Heartbreak House" and the Saurland Hills, and the murderer of the Lindbergh baby remained unknown, untraced and free.

The constabulary of the state of New Jersey charged with the responsibility of the hunt for the person or persons who abducted the baby the night of March 1, killed him immediately and buried the body in brush-grown land of the hill country, found his hunt interrupted by the necessity of doing something about the story of John Hughes Curtis of Norfolk, Virginia.

Curtis, after ten weeks of promise as a negotiator for the return of the child alive, was in jail at Flemington.

"FOLLOW WIRES" TIP IN SEARCH

burgh baby Chief of Police William Walter of Trenton, N.J., received an anonymous letter which identified the writer as a Canadian, directing police to "follow the Lindbergh telephone wires" and the baby and "the three other men" would be found.

When the body of the Lindbergh baby was found a week ago today it lay close to the main road from Hopewell to Princeton, N.J. Along that road ran special wires laid by police conducting the investigation from the Lindbergh garage.

NO REPORT

Chief Walter wrote the word "attention" across the face of the letter, the police at Hopewell. No report as to investigation of the letter reached him.

The news said Chief Walter favored the theory the letter might have been written by one of four men who abducted the baby on the evening of March 1.

SURRENDERED TO FEAR

The text of the letter, as published in The News, follows:

"Mr. Chief:

"I am writing this letter from New York. I am going home to Canada. When I get to Buffalo I will mail it to you. That will give me more time to safely escape. I figure I'm in trouble. I got cold feet and the fellows knew it. I promised not to squeal and they gave me money and I'm going home."

"Maybe I won't get caught. We all thought we could make some easy money. We got a place near Elizabeth, N.J., and one of the fellows who is pretty smart runs a wire to this place of a request that Col. Lindbergh put up money."

TIME OF MURDER

An incidental development was the phrasing of the preface to Curtis' statement to police, indicating the authorities were convinced the Lindbergh child was slain between 8 and 10 o'clock on the night of the abduction, March 1.

Another angle for investigation was provided by Charles B. Borland, director of public safety in Norfolk, Va., who said he had learned Curtis went to New York on the morning of April 2, the date Dr. John F. Condon, another intermediary, tossed the future "Baron Lindbergh" name to a Bronx (New York City) cemetery.

TWO FIRES IN TOWN CHECKED

Prompt action by the fire department yesterday evening and early this morning curbed two outbreaks in business premises which might have developed into serious fires.

The first was at 7:10 o'clock yesterday evening when a temporary coal war house on the wharf of J. E. Painter & Sons caught fire. A quick response to an alarm turned in by R. Stinkins, an employee of the Victoria Paper Box Factory, resulted in the flames being checked in the nick of time.

The other outbreak was at 4:20 o'clock this morning. By police control, stable smoke issuing from the Sylvester Block on Yates Street and turned in an alarm. Engines responded immediately and the damage was confined to a small area.

BANKRUPTCY PLAN OPPOSED

Cardin Tells Commons Bill Creating New System Is Mistake

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 19.—The concentration of legal business in the large centers of Canada is denouncing the smaller towns of lawyers. This was the contention of Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, former Minister of Marine, when the bill to amend the Bankruptcy Act was under discussion in the Commons in committee today.

The bill would provide for a superintendent of bankruptcies under the Finance Department, and licensed trustees. It came in for considerable criticism.

Legal activities in Quebec were being centralized in Montreal and Quebec, the former Liberal minister said.

The changes proposed in the bill would, he said, result in the Minister of Justice, who said the question of concentration of legal business in Montreal and Quebec was a matter for the provincial government to deal with. He suggested a copy of Mr. Cardin's speech be sent to the Attorney-General of Quebec.

SINCE 1921

Cardin opposed the bankruptcy Act, which would create a new system of bankruptcy, before the present act was passed in 1931, was under the laws of the various provinces, he said. The federal parliament had substituted for the established legal institutions, Dominion-wide regulations to govern bankruptcy. This, he contended, had been a mistake.

The amendments now proposed a separate branch to govern bankruptcy under a superintendent. That, said Mr. Cardin, would establish a bureaucracy. The Act concentrated the bankruptcy business in the large cities, where most of the big creditors lived. That was a mistake. Bankruptcy proceedings should be conducted in the district in which the insolvent person lived.

day in fast launches, endeavoring to locate it in the darkness.

Later it was learned the ship had not left the water en route to its new anchorage. It had taken the first mile or so and then was towed by a boat.

SAFE TAKE-OFF

Capt. Frederick Christianson, commander of the DO-X, did not announce his trip to the open water today. He had apparently decided a safer take-off could be made.

A message from the German air cruiser at 5:30 o'clock, E.S.T., said weather conditions were "favorable" and quoted the log as recording the take-off from "Port Washington." The Radio Marine Corporation reported.

The airliner was heavily loaded yesterday for its long flight. A full supply of fuel and provisions was aboard and Capt. Christianson, after taking his craft to a point off the J. P. Morgan estate on Long Island, waited for the dawn. There was a crew of fourteen aboard.

The DO-X had been thoroughly overhauled since its arrival at New York last August. It was stated that plans were to remain in Newfoundland until receipt of favorable weather reports for the flight over the Atlantic to the Azores.

The goal of the flight is Lake Constance, Switzerland, home port of the DO-X, which it left in November, 1930.

SAVED MONEY FOR LINDBERGH

"Jafsie" Gave Back $20,000 and Handed $50,000 to Gang He Negotiated With

Associated Press

New York, May 19.—"I have told my story. They have my statement. If I make a contradiction they must remember I have been pretty busy and this isn't all I have had on my mind."

This was "Jafsie's" statement when asked to comment on his scheduled appearance before the grand jury (New York City grand jury) to-morrow.

"Do you think I took a penny of that $50,000?" asked Dr. J. F. Condon, who before handing over the big sum to a representative of the gang, he believed abducted the Lindbergh baby.

"No, I even saved Colonel Lindbergh $20,000."

In explanation, he repeated a story of how he had been given $70,000 by Colonel Lindbergh, the amount demanded but before keeping the money, he handed $50,000 back to Col. Lindbergh, and persuaded the baby he had met to be content with the remaining $20,000.

WORKED DAY AND NIGHT

"You don't see my chin down, do you?" the aged retired educationist said as he rode downtown to deliver a lecture yesterday evening. "I don't see any favor, do you? I know they are pointing their fingers at me, but all I wanted to do was to restore the baby to his mother."

Police yesterday afternoon scanned it for his name. His eye spotted a headline:

"Jafsie Sole Contact Now"

There, isn't that fine?" he said, reading the headline aloud.

He was anxious to know if there was any change of public feeling toward him.

"I worked night and day to restore that baby," said the septuagenarian with a sigh, "and all I get is thankless criticism."

Police yesterday asserted answers Dr. Condon had made to their questions "adhere consistently to the fundamental facts related so far."

SEVERAL NOTES RECEIVED

Dr. Condon yesterday evening disclosed he had received between five and seven notes, supposed to be from abductors, after he had paid the $50,000 ransom. All demanded more money. He said he had replied to them by putting his answers under a rock near the Bronx Cemetery where the ransom was paid, as directed to do in the notes.

He said these later notes did not bear the cryptic symbol which appeared on the original ransom demand, and also was in the notes received before he paid the $50,000. He was not sure, he explained, whether these last five to seven notes were "genuine," but added:

"I was not taking any chances, so I answered them."

They were not shown to Col. Lindbergh, he said, but Col. Henry Breckinridge, the flier's attorney, knew of them.

"I was determined not to pay any more," Mr. Condon said, in discussing the notes.

During the early 'nineties, young Hall, together with Frederick Moore and J. A. Fisher, decided to pursue their fortune abroad, the flip of a coin making them choose Canada in preference to South Africa or Australia. Shortly after their arrival here they organized and established the Victoria Chemical Works, which grew into a large enterprise, with its plant located at the Outer Wharf. The three friends remained with the firm until it merged with the Canadian Explosives Limited, which is now known as the Canadian Industries Limited, with its plant at James Island. Col. Hall was predeceased by his two partners in the undertaking.

A distinguished scientist, his chemistry research won him world renown and he was quoted quite frequently and extensively by Lunge, the noted German chemist, in his many works, which are accepted as textbooks to the chemical industry. Col. Hall is quoted particularly on matters dealing with sulphuric acid and alkali, these two chemicals having an important part in the study of heavy chemicals.

In 1905 Col. Hall was made commanding officer of the Fifth Regiment, with which he had been associated since 1900, and in 1908 he retired to organize the 88th Fusiliers. In 1913 he commanded the Civil Aid Force, comprising 400 men, which was sent to the coal mining areas of Vancouver Island at the time of the riots.

WENT OVERSEAS

On the outbreak of the war, Col. Hall gave invaluable aid in recruiting troops and in 1915 went overseas as commander of the 30th Battalion, with which was incorporated the 88th Fusiliers. After a short period in France, the British War Office recalled him for special duty as inspector of all munition plants in Great Britain. Later in the war his duties were increased to include the munition plants in Canada. He did considerable chemical research work at Whitechapel for the Munitions Board during the war.

He is survived by his widow here and a sister in England.

The remains are resting at the Thomson & Fetterly Funeral Home, where the funeral will take place at 10:45 o'clock, Friday morning. The cortege will proceed to St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt, where service will be held at 11 o'clock. The body will be sent to Vancouver for cremation.

Added Estimates In Commons $6,620,472

on account of cold storage warehouses. A grant of $5,000 to the Canadian Horticultural Council is also listed.

Public works appropriations are not extensive. The largest single item is one of $100,000 for a site for an addition to a government building in Vancouver. It is the only British Columbia vote for a public building.

For Saskatchewan, an appropriation of $5,000 to purchase the Union Bank Building at Qu'Appelle for postal purposes, appears. A revote of $7,000 for the single public works item in Alberta.

Under the heading of "public buildings generally" a number of amounts for departmental buildings in Ottawa appear. For rents, repairs, furniture, heating, etc., there is a total appropriation of $94,500.

FOR RIVER WORK

Votes for harbors and rivers, also in the public works estimates, include $25,000 for operations and maintenance of snag boats on the Fraser, Skeena and Nease Rivers in British Columbia, and $5,000 for extension of the landing slip at Arrowhead, B.C. A general vote of $50,000 for the same purpose is also included.

A further appropriation of $100,000 for the Department of Marine meteorological service, including the magnetic observatory, is contained in the supplementary estimates.

Under the heading of the Department of Labor is the sum of $25,000 for administration of the Annuities Act, and $42,000 "to cover amounts misappropriated by Annuity Agent C. O. Beveridge, Vancouver."

FOR R.C.M.P. FORCE

The sum of $21,100 to provide for expenses connected with the administration of Indian affairs, and a further amount of $800,000 for maintenance of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are to be appropriated. For radio services in the Northwest Territories, there is a vote of $33,000.

Appropriations of $500,000 for adjustment of war claims, $266,000 for the post office addition service, and $759,811 for the Department of National Revenue, are listed.

A grant of $25,000 to the executive of the World Postal Union toward its expenses when it met in Canada in 1933 is asked.

Ottawa, May 19.—A decrease of approximately $38,000,000 in estimates laid before the Commons this session, for the present year, as compared with last, was shown with the tabling today of the supplementary estimates by Hon. E. R. Hughes, Minister of Finance. The total of main and supplementary estimates tabled this session for the present fiscal year is $383,394,266. Estimates for the fiscal year 1932-33 are approximately $401,400,000.

Sir Harold says that public opinion in New Zealand is supporting the recently-negotiated trade treaty between New Zealand and Canada.

"All channels of opinion in New Zealand are in favor of the treaty with Canada and we hope that the pact will result in greatly improved trade relations between the sister dominions," he said.

He said there was no denying the fact that the situation was a most delicate one when the Bennett Government raised the tariff walls to keep New Zealand butter out of Canada.

The Forbes national government, with Coles as his chief lieutenant, is strongly entrenched and will be popular, said Sir Harold. When he left Auckland a bill was being passed to prolong the life of the government from three to four years.

There are indications of a slight improvement in general business conditions in New Zealand and the people are optimistic.

The Aorangi had left Auckland prior to the recent repetition of the quake at Napier, which, however, lacked the seriousness of the quake in February or 1931.

Sir Harold said that both Napier and Hastings are being rebuilt along elaborate town-planning lines. A contract for a $200,000 hotel was awarded to Napier just before he sailed.

Sir Harold is accompanied by Lady Beauclerk and after passing through Canada will proceed to London.

TORONTO EGGS DOWN TO 13-14

Toronto, May 19.—United Farmers Co-operative Co., to-day supplied the Canadian press with the following quotations on produce delivered at Toronto:

Eggs, extras, dozen, 13 to 14c, firsts, 11 to 12c; cream, churning, No. 11, pound, 16 to 17c; creamery butter, No. 1 solids, pound, 17 to 17 1/2c; potatoes, No. 1 (carrots) in bags, 25c; 30 cents; export beef cattle, 1,000 pounds and over, $5.25 to $5.75.

Per capita consumption of fish in Canada is estimated at 20.7 pounds annually, against a per capita production of 120 pounds.

RESCUE SHIP REACHES ADEN

Aden, Arabia, May 19.—The steamship Andre Lebon arrived here shortly after last midnight from Jibuti, French Somaliland, where it had landed most of the survivors picked up from the burned motorship Georges Philippart.

The Andre Lebon brought thirty-four survivors here, however, to rejoice relatives who were rescued by the British steamship Contractor and Mahaud, which put in here with their cargoes of survivors.

One survivor said he was certain many had died aboard the doomed ship of burns and suffocation. An unnamed doctor told of being awakened by the smoke and flames and of rushing to the next cabin where were his two children and their nurse. He found them sleeping in flames, he said, and never saw them again.

Paris, May 19.—The Messageries Maritimes' motorship Contractor Georges Philippart, which burned in the Arabian Sea Monday, to-day issued a list of the names of 720 passengers and crew of the vessel who were rescued by the steamship Contractor, Mahaud and Andre Lebon.

The list contained all the available information, a statement said, but it gave no indication of the nationalities of those whose names appeared on it.

NO PUBLICITY

Her takeoff today was unannounced, her machine being a fast Lockheed monoplane with a cruising radius of 3,500 miles.

After she had gone, her husband, George Palmer Putnam, publisher, who was her manager when she flew with Wilmer Stultz and Lew Gordon in 1928, was asked her destination.

"You name it," he said. "Dry land, that's all."

Mrs. Putnam's plan was to stop at St. John, N.B., for the night, but it was said she might push on to Harbor Grace.

She was accompanied on the first leg of her flight by Bernt Balchen, who piloted Admiral Richard E. Byrd over the South Pole, and who has prepared her monoplane for the flight, and by Eddie Gorski, an airplane mechanic.

A distinguished scientist, his chemistry research won him world renown and he was quoted quite frequently and extensively by Lunge, the noted German chemist, in his many works, which are accepted as textbooks to the chemical industry. ISLAND COAL OUTPUT FALLS

Mines Report April Production at 48,008 Tons; Kootenay Gains

A 20 per cent reduction in the coal output of Vancouver Island took place last April, compared with the output for the same month last year. Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, yesterday announced that the Island production was 48,008 tons, compared with 59,886 tons in April last year.
April production for the province as a whole was 121,844 tons, only a small falling-off from the same month in 1931, when 124,118 tons were mined.
East Kootenay mines made a large gain in output, reporting 60,376 tons in comparison with 47,000 tons a year ago. The Nicola-Princeton area showed a 20 per cent reduction, the output being 19,299 tons compared with 17,251 tons last year.
Coal Creek and Michel reported an output of 5,350 tons of coke during April.

RADIO PLANS ARE DEBATED

M.P.'s, Discussing Bill, Told Programmes to Be Given in Two Languages

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 19.—Casting aside party lines and joining together in a spirit of harmony, the Commons yesterday reviewed the government's radio control bill. With co-operation and unanimity prevailing, it was given second reading and immediately afterward all but one or two clauses were passed in committee. The whole discussion lasted less than an hour.
The bill was drafted to set up a Canadian radio broadcasting commission to control a nationalized system of broadcasting. Premier Bennett, its sponsor, said the measure was designed to give Canadians a broadcasting system "not excelled elsewhere in the world."
It would assure Canadian control of Canadian broadcasting, free from foreign interference or influence.

YOUNG'S POSITION

E. J. Young, Liberal, Weyburn, Sask., caused a ripple of amusement when he arose to contradict a statement of the Prime Minister that the report of the Commons committee had been adopted unanimously. "I voted against it," he said.
"Possibly the honorable member is a little more vocal now than he was then," the Prime Minister suggested.
Headquarters of the radio commission would be in Ottawa, with branches throughout the country, the Premier stated. Three men would compose the commission, and the Prime Minister suggested a salary of $12,000 a year for the chairman and $10,000 each for the commissioners. It was planned one commissioner would be French-speaking and one would be a radio engineer. The Premier said the radio engineer would not be imposed on, and would be in a position to understand technical advice given to the commission.
Members of the commission should be men with a knowledge of what was pleasing to the people of Canada in the matter of radio, he said.
The Prime Minister, saying no political considerations would influence the selection of commissioners, suggested to the Liberals they prepare a list of men whose appointments would be satisfactory.

SELECTION OF PROGRAMMES
The provinces, the Prime Minister said, would have something to say over programme selections. In provinces where French was spoken to any extent, a proportion of programmes would be broadcast in that language.
With an eye to the future, it was incorporated in the bill that control of television and other scientific developments also would be placed under the commission.
The Prime Minister asked for suggested penalties for infractions of broadcasting regulations and adopted the proposals of Major C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec-South.
After some discussion the committee decided that a fine not exceeding $200, or imprisonment for a period of not more than six months, or both, might be imposed on persons committing a breach of any provisions of the act or of regulations made under the act.

Former Canadian Wrestler in Jail

Seattle, May 19.—The half-Nelsons and hammerlocks which once served him so well as a professional wrestler in Canada landed O. D. Lewis in jail here yesterday as an alleged disorderly person.

When Lewis's fourteen-year-old son, Sherwood, refused to go to school, Lewis brought down the refractory lad with a perfect body slam and kept him there with a "Boston crab." During the combat, however, Mrs. Lewis phoned the police. Patrolmen Otto Cameron and Pat Whalen hurried to the match. Lewis thereupon sought new laurels by making a flying tackle at Officer Whalen, police later reported. The wrestler's technique failed, however, when Cameron subdued Lewis with a leather "nap."

CAIRN FOR SUMMER RESORT

Erected by the City of Nanaimo and unveiled recently the cairn pictured above commemorates the official public opening of Newcastle Island, the Canadian Pacific Railway's new summer resort in Nanaimo harbor, on June 20, 1931. The stone used in the construction of this unique "toddler" was quarried on Newcastle Island at the quarry which produces specially-cut stones for pulp and paper-making. It stands in front of the main pavilion beside the rustic tea garden which is one of the latest improvements at the popular resort.

I.O.D.E. PLANS TO RAISE $200,000 ENDOWMENT

Order Aims to Expand Undertakings and Membership With Fund

Mrs. John A. Stewart Suggests Money For Use in National Emergency

To raise an endowment fund of $200,000 within the next few years is the ambitious plan of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. The object of this fund is threefold: To provide for the expansion of the order's present undertakings and membership; for new avenues of service to the Empire; and for national emergencies that may arise. The report of the endowment fund committee and the discussion thereon will be one of the important features of the annual meeting of the order, to be held in Toronto during the last week in May.

The suggestion that this fund should be created was brought before the order at a previous annual meeting by Mrs. John A. Stewart, former national president and convener of the endowment committee. Mrs. Stewart's idea is that an organization of the size and importance of the I.O.D.E. should have a fund-in-reserve (on somewhat the same principle as that of a bank) to provide for the expansion of the different phases of the order's patriotic and educational work, and also to enable the order to participate worthily in any emergency that may arise.

APPEAL TO YOUNGER WOMEN

One of the many advantages which such development of the work will undoubtedly bring to the order will be its greater appeal to younger women, many of whom, with time, ability and other resources at their command, will be encouraged to become associated with this organization with benefit to it and to themselves. In the order's programme for more extensive patriotic work, plans are under way to make chapter meetings more interesting and more valuable to the members, and thus to enhance the appeal of the work to younger people and insure the continuance of their support. Already reports are being received from a number of many new chapters, particularly in the western province, with the further gratifying news that some of these chapters are composed entirely of young women.

In many cases these new "young" chapters have expressed a desire for service in some phase of the order's work for children. The fact that the work of the order, in the thirty-two years of its existence, has been largely concerned in advancing the cause of the young, gives abundant scope for such work. In addition to the war memorial which benefits educationally the dependent or deceased or permanently disabled soldiers, sailors and airmen, and also provides for overseas post-graduate scholarships as a permanent institution, the order has a fine general educational programme, and spends hundreds of thousands of dollars in child welfare work. The economic difficulties of the past year have increased the need for greater service in these departments and for development in many of them.

IMMIGRATION WORK

The endowment fund will also make possible more intensive and extensive service in immigration work. Although a halt has been called in Empire migration to this country, there is still much to be done for the benefit of the new settlers in every province in Canada and at the ports of entry, as well as in Canadianization work, both educationally and practically. A tremendous volume of work has already been accomplished by the order for the benefit of newcomers, especially in the western provinces, where the need is greatest. Each year the value of the order's efforts is shown in a better understanding of the duties of Canadian citizenship and obligations, and in the appreciation shown by the new citizens of the welcome and material help given by the chapters.

BRITISH FILMS

Another project of the order which will benefit by the endowment fund will be that undertaken by the films committee. The object of this committee is to encourage the showing of British films in Canada, to arouse public interest in the excellence of the British productions, and, in general, to encourage the showing of a better class of films.

Belmont C.G.I.T. Stages Banquet

Under the auspices of the Belmont Avenue United Church C.G.I.T., recently a "mother and daughter" banquet was held. A splendid repast was enjoyed by about twenty-five mothers and guests, and an interesting programme was carried out by the group of ten girls. A hearty vote of appreciation was accorded to Mrs. Emery, leader of this fine group. Beatrice Hastings acted as toastmistress. The programme opened with a sing-song, followed by a welcome and a toast to "King and Country," by Beatrice Hastings. Next to "Mothers" by Kathleen Berry, responded to by Mrs. Wharton; toast to "Our Guests" by Mrs. Emery, responded to by Mrs. Knott. The social part of the evening was Miss Clarice Hick. A play, the cast being Cora Wharton, Rosey Tait and Mona Emery, was enjoyed. Margaret Smith gave a toast to "Our Church," replied to by Mrs. Emery. A toast to "Our Sunday School" was given by Mrs. Hurdleby and responded to by Mrs. Bailey, and was followed by a duet rendered by Dora Hurdleby and Jean Johnson. An interesting feature of the evening was an address by Miss Gladys Beale, which was thoroughly enjoyed. The group song, "Taps," was sung, bringing a very successful evening to a close.

S.P.C.A. to Post Warning Notices

The Victoria branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals met on Tuesday at Room "A," Campbell Building. It was decided to post notices throughout the district offering a reward of $5 to anyone giving information leading to the conviction of any person found guilty of inflicting Section 123 of the British Columbia Game Act which reads as follows: "No person shall, at any place in the vicinity of any forest or woodland or in any locality where game is usually found, release or turn at large any cat for the purpose of abandoning the same." The committee expressed the hope that if an animal parade is held on May 24, those in charge will see that the animals suffer no discomfort. The committee was gratified with the results of the tag day held on April 30 and thanked Mrs. G. B. Walker, the convener, and all those who took part in the good work, also the press, and David Spencer Limited for dressing a window specially for animal week. The inspector reported forty cases attended and 547 animals and birds inspected during the month. Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the inspector, G. A. Allen, F.R.S.I., or to the secretary-treasurer, A. R. Sherwood, 27554.

NEIGHBOR CHILDREN MAY MAKE LIFE MISERABLE

The neighbors children may prove themselves delightful companions or insufferable nuisances. They seem to be making life unusually difficult for this mother whose experiences are deplorable but not unique. Mrs. L. C. writes pathetically, "Please help me. I am nearly crazy. How can I keep my boys in their own yard? It seems to me that the whole street is against them. They cannot seem to get along. I would feel in heaven if my children were to stay away from the rest and out of fights. I am a nervous wreck and cannot seem to get any better, though I could if they would only stay at home. We are Italians and just as clean and respectable as anyone else on the street, but the children call my boys names and I cannot stand it."

PASSING PHASE

All of this would be easier to answer had you mentioned your boys' ages. They may be going through the fighting period, then it takes little or nothing to spur them to use their fists. In that case suffer it through, as it is a passing phase of growth.

Perhaps your children are the aggressive type. The neighbor child may be driven to use names as the only effective weapon against them. If your boys start the fights, you must not blame the other children for fighting also.

Do not try to isolate your children, but help them to get along with the others. Make your own backyard attractive so that they will want to stay at home and other children will want to play there with them. My leaflet "Home-made Backyard Equipment," will help you to do this. Send it self-addressed, stamped envelope for this leaflet, please.

A BARRIER

If you separate your children from other children, you will erect a barrier between them that time will not demolish. Teach your boys to stand up for themselves when necessary, but not to "pick" fights.

It is possible that your own nervous condition is leading you to exaggerate the harmfulness of this youthful fighting, and inspiring you to want to isolate your children as the only solution. Help your children by making your yard attractive, hoping to lure other children into it, and with your children as amiable hosts the other children will treat them more sociably.

DO NOT BE DISTURBED

As for the names, they are temporary stings, but of no moment. Do not let your boys be disturbed by them. If you embarrass your boys against other children and make them feel inferior by erasing in front of such names, you cause a festering sore that may never leave them. Hold up your heads. Go on being a "clean, respectable family." Let your worth be certain to assert itself. Do not let any child's estimate of your race make you ashamed of it. Teach your boys the same. Then they will pass through this comparatively silly stage of fighting because someone calls them a name, and will be unscathed by it. As for your neighbors, try to know them better yourself. If you hold aloof and act as if they were your enemies, that only encourages their children to treat your boys in the same way.

"Mad Marriage"

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
Author of "Heart Hungry," Etc.
(Copyright by NEA Service Inc.)

Pat rubbed his cold little nose against her chin and wagged his tail as comfortably as possible.

She had expected Jim to do four for her, but she could not budge. She was not later than 2:30 when Gypsy, down on her knees tugging at the petted faster than she was to hold her dresses smooth in the trunk, heard footsteps on the stairs. In another instant Jim appeared in the doorway.

"Thought there might be something I could help with," he volunteered.

Gypsy sat back. "There isn't," she said. "Everything's packed and I'll be ready just as soon as I fasten up these things."

"Well, I can do that, can't I?"

The girl tugged independently for a minute, but she could not budge. She said, "All right," she conceded, rising. "Maybe you'll be better at it than I am."

Pat began sniffing around the trunk. "Go away!" Jim told the dog gruffly. He forced the faster into place.

"Sure there's nothing more to go in here?" he asked.

"There isn't, but I'll take one more look," she turned toward the clothes closet. "No," she began and suddenly her eye fell on the terrier.

"Pat!" Gypsy exclaimed, "go away. You mustn't do that!"

The terrier was poking his nose down into the corner of the brown suitcase. As she spoke he raised his head. Triumphant in his mouth he held an old pair of bedroom slippers. Not the tiny, feminine slippers made of satin that Gypsy wore. Old, battered, brown leather slippers that could belong to one else in that household but Jim Wallace. A ruined, disreputable, hopelessly worn-out pair of bedroom slippers.

She tried to get to the dog but Jim was before her. He took the slippers from the dog's mouth and held them up.

"What," he asked, "are you doing with these?"

"I took them."

"But what for?"

"I suddenly Gypsy could not speak. She buried her face in her hands and sobbed her shoulders.

"Don't cry," Gypsy said. "Please don't cry. I didn't mean to make you feel badly." The tears continued. Jim put his arm around the girl and she clung to him.

"Oh, Jim, I can't stand it!" she moaned. "I can't stand it to go away and leave you!"

He pressed her closer. The girl's tear-wet cheek touched his chin.

"Do you mean that?" Jim asked in a tone she had never heard him use before. "Do you mean that, Gypsy?"

A nodding head confirmed the statement.

"But I thought," Wallace began, and suddenly held her away from him. "Look here! What's Crosby the fellow you used to be in love with? Didn't he come back here to tell you he still wanted you?"

Now it was Gypsy who was surprised. She looked up at him through her tears.

"Yes," Gypsy said, "but I sent him away. I told him 'I love you'."

Out of the bewildering confrontation each of them three facts were made plain. Jim's lips found and conquered Gypsy's in a manner amazingly satisfactory. Gypsy's head rested against Jim's shoulder in the most delightful way and his arms were the protection she had always dreamed of.

There were discoveries—remarkable breath-taking discoveries—to be made about the warm whiteness of Gypsy's throat, about her curling lashes and the softness of her hair. There was the miracle of Jim's kisses to be reckoned with. Oh, there was so much to marvel at in a world that had suddenly become paradise for these two!

No wonder logic and reason and all the things that were topsy-turvy and unexplainable seemed unimportant.

Afterward, of course, they got around to discussing the wherefore. Jim confessed how long ago he had found the snapshot picture of Crosby in a book. He had forgotten about it until, ten days ago, right after Crosby's visit, he had come across the book again. There was the photograph and this time he knew who it was. He had been sure before that the man was Crosby's best friend. It had been natural enough to go on as suspended sentence.

PAID AIR
MORAL DEBT

C. A. Magrath, Former Ontario Chairman, Heard at Toronto Inquiry

Toronto, May 19.—The Hydro-electric Power Commission of Ontario had a moral obligation to pay John Aird Jr. for his services in negotiating the purchase of the Madawaska River power rights, declared C. A. Magrath, former hydro chairman, before the royal commission investigating hydro affairs here yesterday.

Although there was no legal obligation, he said, Mr. Aird had assisted Hydro in making the purchase. He admitted the order-in-council authorizing the payment of $50,000 to Mr. Aird had not been passed by the government until four months after Aird had received the cheque.

"Was there any legal obligation on Hydro to pay Mr. Aird a five-cent piece?" asked A. G. Smyth, K.C., independent counsel, after pointing out plans and specifications had been prepared by J. R. Kerry, consulting engineer, and Mr. Aird's former partner, R. W. Millard.

"I would say off-hand there was no legal obligation—but we were using Aird in making the purchase," Mr. Magrath replied.

The Madawaska, owned by the O'Brien interests at Ottawa, had been offered to Hydro for various sums ranging from $2,150,000 down to $1,000,000, but Hydro eventually had obtained the property for $1,800,000, the former Hydro chairman declared.

He admitted the property had not been developed, and that it was in a "dead stage" so far as Hydro was concerned at present. However, Madawaska would eventually form an integral part of the Hydro system, and the purchase was regarded as good business. Had private interests obtained the property, the price would have been considerably higher than the figure at which Hydro ultimately had bought it, he said.

The payment had been made to Mr. Aird because he had "stepped aside" to allow the commission to negotiate directly with the O'Brien interests because of the possibility of his facilitating competition, and because of a "go-between," said Mr. Magrath.

R. W. Millard was "absolutely wrong" when he suggested there was a possibility Mr. Aird had been paid more than the original $50,000 by the Hydro, he said.

NOT BEFORE CABINET
Later during the session Premier G. S. Henry testified the proposal of the Ontario hydro commission to pay John Aird Jr. $50,000 had never come before the Ontario Provincial Cabinet.

ASK DUTY ON STEAM COAL

Western Canada Association Urges Higher Values For Duty Against U.S.

Saskatoon, May 19.—Reinstatement of a "fair price" for duty purposes, formerly operative on United States steam coal, is asked in a resolution which gained the almost unanimous support of the Western Canada Coal Association at the closing session of its annual convention here yesterday.

The request was forwarded to the federal government.

Re-establishment of the rate was asked on the grounds that the prices of certain United States coals had been reduced to such a level that they entered the category of unfair competition, and western steam coal companies were unable to compete, it was intimated.

The association also recorded its approval of a resolution asking prohibition of the use of United States coal west of the Great Lakes.

Support of the Ontario Fuel Dealers' Association will be asked in a campaign to develop the Ontario market for Canadian coal by having all western Canadian coal sold and advertised under the registered mine name.

Pat rubbed his cold little nose against her chin and wagged his tail as comfortably as possible.

She had expected Jim to do four for her, but she could not budge. She was not later than 2:30 when Gypsy, down on her knees tugging at the petted faster than she was to hold her dresses smooth in the trunk, heard footsteps on the stairs. In another instant Jim appeared in the doorway.

"Thought there might be something I could help with," he volunteered.

Gypsy sat back. "There isn't," she said. "Everything's packed and I'll be ready just as soon as I fasten up these things."

"Well, I can do that, can't I?"

The girl tugged independently for a minute, but she could not budge. She said, "All right," she conceded, rising. "Maybe you'll be better at it than I am."

Pat began sniffing around the trunk. "Go away!" Jim told the dog gruffly. He forced the faster into place.

"Sure there's nothing more to go in here?" he asked.

"There isn't, but I'll take one more look," she turned toward the clothes closet. "No," she began and suddenly her eye fell on the terrier.

"Pat!" Gypsy exclaimed, "go away. You mustn't do that!"

The terrier was poking his nose down into the corner of the brown suitcase. As she spoke he raised his head. Triumphant in his mouth he held an old pair of bedroom slippers. Not the tiny, feminine slippers made of satin that Gypsy wore. Old, battered, brown leather slippers that could belong to one else in that household but Jim Wallace. A ruined, disreputable, hopelessly worn-out pair of bedroom slippers.

She tried to get to the dog but Jim was before her. He took the slippers from the dog's mouth and held them up.

"What," he asked, "are you doing with these?"

"I took them."

"But what for?"

"I suddenly Gypsy could not speak. She buried her face in her hands and sobbed her shoulders.

"Do you mean that?" Jim asked in a tone she had never heard him use before. "Do you mean that, Gypsy?"

A nodding head confirmed the statement.

"But I thought," Wallace began, and suddenly held her away from him. "Look here! What's Crosby the fellow you used to be in love with? Didn't he come back here to tell you he still wanted you?"

Now it was Gypsy who was surprised. She looked up at him through her tears.

"Yes," Gypsy said, "but I sent him away. I told him 'I love you'."

Out of the bewildering confrontation each of them three facts were made plain. Jim's lips found and conquered Gypsy's in a manner amazingly satisfactory. Gypsy's head rested against Jim's shoulder in the most delightful way and his arms were the protection she had always dreamed of.

There were discoveries—remarkable breath-taking discoveries—to be made about the warm whiteness of Gypsy's throat, about her curling lashes and the softness of her hair. There was the miracle of Jim's kisses to be reckoned with. Oh, there was so much to marvel at in a world that had suddenly become paradise for these two!

No wonder logic and reason and all the things that were topsy-turvy and unexplainable seemed unimportant.

Afterward, of course, they got around to discussing the wherefore. Jim confessed how long ago he had found the snapshot picture of Crosby in a book. He had forgotten about it until, ten days ago, right after Crosby's visit, he had come across the book again. There was the photograph and this time he knew who it was. He had been sure before that the man was Crosby's best friend. It had been natural enough to go on as suspended sentence.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily And Runaway Robbie
By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time there was a little puppy dog named Robbie. His real name, of course, was Robert, but his daddy used to call him by the pet name of "Robbie," and so did every one else in "Woodland," near Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, where the dog family lived.

Robbie had two brothers, Jackie and Peetle Bow Wow, but this story is just about Uncle Wiggily. Robbie was a very jolly little puppy dog, but there hiding in the tall weeds, had seen Robbie run away. And after the runaway puppy hopped the jolly old rabbit gentleman, Uncle Wiggily had thought of several things. Along the path over the field, he had hidden several false faces that he had saved from Halloween. And as Uncle Wiggily hopped along he took from under a bush the false face of a cow. Putting this on Mr. Longears, chasing after Runaway Robbie, began to call:

"Oh, dear!" barked Robbie, looking back over his shoulder. "A cow is chasing me. That's the first time this has happened since I started to run away. But the cow can't catch me!"

"Moo! Moo! Moo!" bawled Uncle Wiggily beneath the false face of the cow. He ran after Robbie. Then, all of a sudden, the rabbit reached another bush where he had hidden the false face of a monkey. Throwing aside the cow's face and putting on that of the monkey, he began to chatter like Jacko Kinkytail in a coconut tree.

"Oh, now a monkey is after me!" barked Robbie. And after that Uncle Wiggily changed false faces again, putting on one like a big Bob Cat and one like a Fox and one like a Wolf, until Runaway Robbie was so tired from trying to get away from all these make-believe creatures that he just fell down in a big mud puddle and whined: "Oh, please don't hurt me!"

"Then—then—Wiggily, taking off his last false face, that of a Jack o' Lantern, said:

"I won't hurt you, Robbie. I love you. But you must not run away any more."

"I never will!" promised Robbie and he never did. Now if the milkman's horse will give the police dog a ride in the doll carriage I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Kitten's tail.

MAN HELD FOR LONG BY GANG

Pennsylvanian Says He Was Captive For Eight Months

Scranton, Pa., May 19.—A strange tale of being abducted from his home in Monticelloville and held captive for eight months without apparent motive was told yesterday by a man found bound and gagged by the roadside on the outskirts of the city.

The man, who said he was J. Drew Fague, thirty-one-year-old justice of the peace of Monticelloville and candidate for the United States Congress in 1930, disappeared from his home the night of September 17, 1931, and had not been heard from since.

Rev. T. M. Pusey, pastor of the West Park Methodist Episcopal Church, identified him as his nephew and corroborated the reported facts to the alleged abduction.

RESIDENT OF
ROYAL CITY DIES

J. M. Ankers, Octogenarian New Westminster Citizen, Succumbs

Vancouver, May 19.—John M. Ankers, aged eighty-two, prominent Royal City resident, died yesterday in St. Paul's Hospital following a short illness. He resided at 219 Columbia Street, New Westminster.

He was born in Schleswig, then a Danish province, in 1850. He went to Hamburg as a youth and in 1869 migrated to New York, later moving to the Mississippi, where he was employed on construction of levees. Eventually he landed in Seattle and from there moved to New Westminster to assist in construction of the big burner at Fraser Mills.

Settling in New Westminster, Mr. Ankers obtained employment on the construction of the first fourteen-inch main to Lake Coquitlam. He became patrol man for the main, under William Scott, first water superintendent of New Westminster. Mr. Scott was succeeded by A. Swinton, now a Vancouver parks board engineer, and when the latter left for Vancouver Mr. Ankers was appointed superintendent of the main.

He was a member of Union Lodge No. 9, A.F. & A.M.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Foolish Grandma Who Let Her First Grandchild Alienate Her Husband—How Much Should a Man Forgive His Wife?—Married Secretary Fears Her Kind

DEAR MISS DIX—Among my acquaintances is a couple whose history is that of the usual well-to-do family. The husband is a fine man, devoted to his family, a good provider, fond of his wife. He would go every day from his business to his home where his wife had always arranged something pleasant to do for the evening. That kept the man interested and amused. But all of a sudden she changed when the oldest daughter got married and had a baby. Then the wife became nothing but a grandmother. She neglected her husband. Had no time for him. Never considered his taste or pleasure in anything. He couldn't even run the radio of an evening if the baby was around, for it would wake it up. But the grandfather, of course, was hanging around. A pretty girl in his office who was willing to exchange kisses for silk stockings and so on and so forth.

When grandma finds out about this she will blow up and wreck the home. But who is to blame?
A DISTRESSED FRIEND.

Answer—Grandma, of course. I have said over and over again in this column that the wrecking of a home is always an inside job. It is the husband or the wife or both who put the TNT under the doorstep and have it handy for a careless or a malicious outsider to explode.

No woman would fall out of love with her husband and in love with some long-haired poet or drug-store sheik if her husband would take the trouble to feed her on a little romance and pay her a compliment every day. No woman would lose her husband to another woman if she would try as hard to hold him as she did to catch him. No home would be a place of pickering and strife if both husband and wife would nail the peace flag to their mast and see that it kept flying.

But they don't, and when they have lost the thing dearest to them in the world and their marriage brings them misery and disillusion instead of happiness, they blame it on fate instead of on their own stupidity.

Statistics show that women are the petitioners in divorce cases far oftener than men are. Also that the charge that wives make against their husbands is as a general thing, unfaithfulness. Now, of course, there are men who are born philanderers and who could not be true to any one woman, no matter if she were a compendium of all the charms and virtues of her sex.

But this is not true of the great majority of men. They are not women-chasers by instinct. They love their wives when they marry them and would be true to them if their wives did not drive them from them by neglect or nagging or ceasing to make themselves attractive or by their failure to play up to them.

There is no woman in the world so stupid that she does not know that her husband wants to be first with her, that he likes for her to make the gesture of considering him before anyone else. It makes him feel big and important for her to cater to him, yet thousands of women never even see their husbands again after their first baby is born. Junior puts his nose so out of joint that it never gets in place again. His pleasure, his comfort, his desires don't weigh for an instant against a squalling infant. Henceforth he is nothing but a slave to toil for the children.

And every woman knows that her husband wants to be amused and talked to and to have somebody to step out with him and be gay, but after the baby comes only too often the wife is too busy and too absorbed in the youngster to do it. And that is why so many married men get into affairs with the girls in their offices. It is because their wives have turned into mothers and not remained sweeties.

With many women motherhood is an obsession, but with men fatherhood is merely a pleasant incident. A woman can do without her husband if she has children, but a man wants his wife as well as his children, and if women could only be wise enough to be more wife than they are mother we would not hear so much of roving husbands.

DEAR MISS DIX—What qualities are necessary for a man to possess to enable him to forgive and continue to live with his wife after she has confessed that she has been untrue to him in three instances and where the three men who are her partners in guilt are living in the same town? Isn't this the hardest thing that any man was ever called upon to do?
C. H.

Answer—Yes, I think for a husband to forgive a disloyal wife is the hardest thing in the world for him to do, and it is an added turn of the knife in the wound for him to have to meet daily the men with whom she has betrayed him.

And I want to express to you my admiration of your forbearance and wisdom in not taking any vengeance upon them, as husbands did in a less civilized and sane age. For the married woman who goes astray does it of her own volition. She is no ignorant, unsophisticated girl. She is as much to blame as the man, and her husband, only shows his intelligence when he refuses to wreck his life for the sake of a worthless wife.

As to the qualities that it takes to forgive an unfaithful wife, they must be, I think, an almost divine pity for her weakness, an understanding of a nature that is avid for thrills and romance and change, and that is perhaps constitutionally emotionally unstable.

And perhaps the husband would have to understand also that there are women, just as there are men, who are sensualists and philanderers and who have not in them the ability to be faithful to any man. But in order to forgive, the husband would have to have most of all such a great and overwhelming love for his wife that he could throw it as a cloak over her weaknesses and hide them even from his own eyes.

And, fortunately, the woman who has this attraction for other men nearly always does have it for her own husband so that he can forgive her.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am engaged to marry a banker whose secretary I am. If I marry him he will hire a new secretary in my place and I am afraid he may fall in love with her as he has with me. Shall I keep my position or marry him?
GRETA.

Answer—I'll say that the riddle of the lady or the tiger was easy to solve compared to whether a secretary shall marry her boss or continue to boss him as his secretary.

But perhaps all secretaries are not so fascinating as you are or perhaps your fiancé may not be such an easy mark for the arts and wiles of a secretary as you think he is. At any rate if I were you I would marry him and pick out his next secretary. Something old and sour and crabbed with stringy hair and a snub nose and false teeth.

That, with knowing you are wise to the ways of employers and secretaries, should keep your husband walking the straight and narrow path.
DOROTHY DIX.

IV.—HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

In the year 1819, a youth came to Copenhagen, a youth by the name of Hans Christian Andersen.

Hans was the son of a shoemaker who had died three years before. It had been planned that the boy should be a tailor; but he had other ideas. He wanted to be either an actor or an opera singer. After reaching the capital city, Hans went to a theatre and asked for work. He was laughed at, and told that he could not even speak good Danish.

It was true that the youth had obtained little education; but he had learned to write, and he was able to do much more than just place words on paper. He could put together words which would sing a song of poetry. At length his poems gained friends for him. The King of Denmark heard about him and arranged that he should go to school. School work did not capture his fancy, but he learned things which he needed if he was to follow the life of a writer.

At the age of twenty-four, he wrote a play, a book of poems, and a story about a trip he had made through Denmark on foot. These writings were well received. Six years later, Andersen wrote a novel which became popular; and almost the same time appeared his first book of "Fairy Tales." He thought that his fairy tales did not amount to much. In later years Andersen wrote other novels, among them "Only a Fiddler," and he added to the number of his fairy tales. He traveled to England, and to many parts of the continent of Europe, including Spain and Sweden. Thus the boy who had wanted to become an opera singer turned out to be a noted writer. Andersen's desire was to be a novelist, but it was his fairy tales which brought him lasting fame. For a time, the public did not appreciate those tales; but the day came, during the author's lifetime, when they were translated into foreign languages. When you read Andersen's fairy tales, see whether you can find in them the magic touch which the shoemaker's son must have felt when he rose to fame as a writer. Horoscope

FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1932

Adverse planetary aspects are strong today, according to astrology. It is wiser to plan vacation than it is to engage in new business projects. There is a fairly good sign for those who work in fields and factories. The world will need many products in the next year, it is prophesied. As the nations of the world recognize that the new era in human experience is well under way, readjustments will assure widespread prosperity. The years who long have counseled thrift, now advise careful balancing of income and expenses by adopting altered scales of living. Under this planetary government it may be most unwise to begin any new enterprise unless plans have been made when more favorable aspects ruled. Judgment may be had at this time, when the stars appear to prestage many perplexities for the average man. Shorter hours of work marked by intensive effort are again predicted, and it is indicated that recreation will be more and more sought by men and women of average means. The evening of this day is read as auspicious for all sorts of meetings. Political aspirants should make the most of its opportunities. This should be a fortunate time for lovers, if they wait until after the sunset-time to meet. There is a good sign for outdoor amusements and sports of many sorts. Music is well directed. Sudden changes of weather are prognosticated and a summer of extraordinary storms and heat may be expected in many parts of Canada. Astrologers stress the importance of cultivating the simple life and reducing expenditures, even though promised prosperity is near. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes and journeys.

Relatives may cause sudden decisions, involving odd experiences. Children born on this day probably will be of serious or academic trend of mind. The subjects of this sign are on the cusp and equidistant Gemini trails with those of Taurus. William George Fargo, founder of a pioneer express business, was born on this day 128. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Albert A. Pope, 1843, manufacturer. Forest operations in Canada involved the cutting of 3,055,000,000 cubic feet of standing timber in 1930 compared with 3,000,000,000 cubic feet in 1929.

BABY ON 3,400-MILE BOX CAR TRIP

When his job petered out in San Francisco and he could not find another, Charles Hyatt decided he would go back to the paternal roof at Uniontown, Pa., with his girl wife, Reva, and their baby, Charles, Jr., eight months old. Broke, they started across country in box cars when they could get them. Here they are at Cincinnati on the last lap of their 3,400-mile journey after thirty-seven days on the road in freight cars and hiking.

DEAD MISER IN GARRET LEAVES $350,000 FORTUNE

London.—The amazing story of an eighty-one-year-old miser who died in a garret and left a fortune of about $350,000, will be heard in a court in the Italian Tyrol.

This lonely old man took a wretched garret at 12s. a week at Brinken, in the Italian Tyrol, last June. Three months later he died of heart failure. Nobody knew anything about him except that he was a German named Heinrich Basse.

A doctor stated that his constitution had been undermined by starvation. He was seen sometimes dressed in ragged clothes going to the shops, where he spent a few coppers on bread and potatoes. Every day he fetched a little milk in an old meat-can.

The undertaker searched the garret after his death in the hope of finding some money towards the funeral expenses. Under a pile of dirty clothes he found a box containing 20,000 lire in gold (about £275).

He continued his search and found a quantity of share certificates, keys and safe deposits in various towns, and passbooks of banks in several countries. The fortune left by the miser amounted to about £70,000.

Among the miser's papers were two will. One, made in 1913, left his fortune to his relatives in Germany. In another, made a month before his death, he wrote:

"The undersigned, Heinrich Basse, born in Bonn-on-Rhine in 1850, hereby states that his whole fortune is to be the property of the Chinese people in Eastern Asia or of the Chinese Government, and expresses the wish that it may be used in fighting the European nations."

COURT SEQUEL

This amazing will was published in the Brixen newspapers and the gold and passbooks were handed over to representatives of the Chinese Embassy in Rome.

Relatives of Basse in Germany, who had not heard from him for years, took the necessary steps to prevent the withdrawal of the money by the Chinese authorities.

The Brixen court will be asked to say that Basse was not of sound mind when he made the later will.

Frau Nivelle, one of Basse's relatives, who is living in an almshouse at Brixen, states that Basse was apprenticed to his father, a butcher, and sold the business when his father died. He then began a wandering life in France, Belgium, America and Italy.

Among his papers, said Frau Nivelle, were found a pass from the French Secret Service, letters from the British Foreign Office and from the Soviet

CHOIR HONORS MAJOR WATTS

Fairfield Choral Society Makes Presentation to Retiring Conductor

The presentation of a silver cigarette case to Major W. H. Watts, popular conductor, who is retiring on account of ill-health, was an interesting feature of the final concert for this season of the Fairfield Choral Society, held yesterday evening at St. Matthias Hall.

Rev. A. C. E. Munson, who acted as chairman, called upon Albert Sullivan, a charter member of the society, to make the presentation on behalf of the members. Mr. Sullivan voiced the feelings of all the members when he described Major Watts as a conductor who could give the highest interpretation not only to the music but also to the words and meaning of the works presented. He expressed the sincere regret of the society at Major Watts' enforced retirement, and wished him a pleasant holiday and renewed health.

Major Watts, who was much touched by the expression of affection and esteem, thanked the members and paid warm tribute to Mrs. Warren, leader of the Fairfield choir, and Mr. N. P. Fairweather, leader of the St. Matthias choir, who had been instrumental in organizing the Fairfield Choral Society four years ago and wished the organization every success under the baton of his successor.

The informal programme, which was much enjoyed by an appreciative audience, included eight choral numbers by the choir, among them the two festival pieces, "Hymns" and "Music When Soft Voices Die." Miss Isabel Pike and P. T. Ivings sang a duet; solo voices were contributed by Missa, piery, Miss Mona Bradford, P. T. Ivings, A. W. Trevel and Albert Sullivan, and Miss Isabel Pike played the Beethoven "Sonata" Opus 31, No. 2.

Miss Josephine Charlbois lent admirable support at the piano. The evening concluded with a social hour, during which the Women's Guild of St. Matthias served dainty refreshments.

Hardy Hedges Need Good Soil And Firm Planting

A hedge bordering a garden plot or the lawn surrounding a home requires quite a bit of work in starting, but once on the way grows into an attractive unit of the home grounds.

Hedges can be successfully transplanted at this time of the year. The primary requisite is a good soil and, if this is not available, it should be prepared before the plants are set.

A deep, rich, well-drained soil is best. A trench two or three feet deep should be dug and rotted manure, leaf mold or peat should be placed in the bottom before the bushes are set in. Sand added to a clay soil, and clay or peat to a sandy soil will improve conditions.

SET ROOTS FIRMLY

In setting the plants, place them firmly in the soil from eight inches to a foot apart. Tamp the soil well around the roots with a narrow strip of wood. When the plant is well set, fill in over the root system, tamp again, and then wet the ground around the plant with water. This soaking also serves to settle the earth around the roots.

After planting the hedges should be pruned. Deciduous kinds should be cut back rather severely. This makes for a bushy growth. Evergreens should have their main terminal shoots pinched back to encourage slow and bushy growth.

ONE FOR THE SHADE

A hedge which will give fair results in moist, shady places is the Clethra alnifolia. For a tall hedge or screen, lilacs may be used.

The evergreen hedges include the spruces, of which there are many varieties.

ties. They will grow quite large in time, but it will take a good many years for them to grow out of the hedge and into the tree class.

In homes where hedges have been growing for years, it is well to inspect them every year for broken branches which have been cracked during the winter from the weight of the snow. These branches often destroy the lines of a well kept hedge and it is necessary to cut them off. It is best to have the top of the hedge rounded to eliminate this collection of snow.

Common plants used as hedges are: Japanese barberry, coral barberry, California privet, Amur privet, Ithya privet, big-berried privet, cottoncane lucida, Spiraea Van Houttei, Japanese quince, buckthorn and many others.

ONE-YEAR TERM FOR CAR FRAUD

Donald McKenzie, who pleaded guilty to obtaining an automobile by false pretences from the Best Motor Company, was sentenced to one year imprisonment by Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court this morning.

Passing sentence, the magistrate told the accused he apparently had not learned his lesson from leniency on previous occasions he had been in trouble.

"I would also point out that you must have been charged with the theft of the car, for which the minimum penalty is one year," he said. McKenzie tendered a bogus cheque as the down payment on a car he secured from the motor company.

SAYS COMPANY OWED MONEY

$12,000 Due Government and $13,000 to Bank, Defence Counsel Suggests

Quarter-million-dollar Suit Continues Over Wiping Out of Kapoor Town

How he had informed officials of the railway over the long distance telephone that the situation was getting dangerous, was told by Samuel Cowan, accountant for the Kapoor Lumber Company, when he resumed the stand-to-day in the company's quarter-million-dollar damage suit against the Canadian Northern Railway because of the complete wiping out of the town, residences, plant and 8,000,000 feet of lumber at Kapoor by a fire, which is claimed, started on the railway right-of-way.

Mr. Cowan said the railway officials had talked of sending out an engine and two days later to fight the track fire, before it had spread to the town.

Replying to questions from R. L. Maitland, K.C., chief of the counsel retaining the case for the lumber company, Mr. Cowan asserted the company had a gross operating profit for 1929, but at the time of the fire there was a deficit of $2,681.

Mr. Cowan went into detail into all the items of loss going to make up the company's total of $223,974. He said the company's loss of $13,860 in 1929, Mr. Cowan, however, asserted the Kapoor company was "in a very good position." He was also examined about the damage to the company's spur track which it was claiming was destroyed by the fire.

Ask Judge to Rule On Pi Gow Game

A pi gow game in which $42 went astray in the betting resulted to-day in Pang Mook and Ling Chong, with Gordon A. Cameron and Alexis Martin as their respective lawyers, appearing before Judge McIntosh to get him to decide which man had the money coming to him.

"Your Honor is no doubt familiar with this game," said Mr. Martin. "Only in theory," the judge interjected.

Mr. Martin explained this was a very exclusive game, played with the elite of Chinatown. Pang sued because he claimed he had loaned Ling the money. Ling, however, Mr. Martin explained, considered Pang's method of shaking the dice unethical. He said Pang, as soon as he tossed the dice out, scooped them up and announced he had won the throws without giving anyone else in the game a chance to see what spots had come up.

The judge said he would have to study it out and reserved his decision.

Seven Test Match Players Coming: Two-day Game Here June 18 and 20

W. F. Ives, Sydney, a member of the Australian cricket team which will play here June 18 and 20, arrived in Victoria on the liner Aorangi this morning and went on with the boat to Vancouver to continue his advance tour. Mr. Ives will be back in Victoria in time to join his colleagues, who will play their first match at Duncan June 17, if their boat arrives in time.

Mr. Ives suggested to representatives of the Victoria District Cricket Association in the Empress Hotel this morning that Victoria field eleven and bat fifteen for the big match. He pointed out that if Victoria fielded more than eleven players, there might not be the same opportunity for the Australians to display their placement strokes.

TEST PLAYERS

Of the twelve players coming from the Antipodes, seven have their test match caps and many of them have played during the three Australian tours of the last two years in England, the West Indies and South Africa. In 1930 the Australians wrested the historic "Ashes" from England and their victories early in 1931 in the West Indies and South Africa established them on the cricket pinnacle of the world.

A month after the present touring team returns home in September, England will be "down under" in an effort to recover the "Ashes." Mr. Ives said the Australians hope to get thoroughly limbered up during their coming tour for the difficult test with the English eleven.

The team, Mr. Ives pointed out, is essentially amateur. Unlike the county teams in England, all the leading Australian teams are comprised of "week-end" players. One of the most carefully watched players will be young Don Bradman, who has broken just about all the batting records—there are no bats and who is known as the "Babe Ruth of cricket."

PLAY AT HOLLYWOOD

Matches are planned for many of the leading cities in Canada and New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Buffalo and Detroit. The last match of the tour will be played in Hollywood, when motion pictures, probably of a humorous nature, will be taken.

The idea of the trip, said Mr. Ives, is not only to help popularize the game throughout Canada, and the eastern states, but to foster as much as possible a spirit of goodwill. A number of greetings is being brought by the team from Sir Isaac Isaacs, Governor-General of Australia, to Lord Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada.

CRICKET VERY POPULAR

Mr. Ives, who is captain of the Sydney team on which Bradman plays and who was one of those responsible for bringing the hard-hitting act out of the "bush" into big-time cricket, said that cricket is the most popular sport in Australia.

The interstate four-day games between the historic rivals, New South Wales and Victoria, are held at Melbourne to 70,000 people daily. Now this interstate rivalry has been intensified by letting in Queensland and South Australia. The interest in cricket was remarkable, he added, when the tropical nature of the climate was considered.

Mr. Ives considered the economic ills of Australia were often exaggerated. The fact that the Australian Labor government of New South Wales really had quite a large following, but the trouble lay in the fact that there were extreme as well as moderate conciliatory elements in the party.

CITY TEMPLE HOLDS SUPPER

Eighth Annual Celebration of Organization Held Yesterday Evening

A large attendance marked the eighth annual dinner of the City Temple, held yesterday evening at Temple Hall. Among those present were forty-five men and women who shared in the formation of the organization. The programme of entertainment included excellent vocal and musical selections and a fine array of lantern slides.

George Holt, president, reviewed the labors undertaken by the temple during the four years he had occupied the presidency. He told of organizational difficulties, overtures, and described financial and other problems which had been met and conquered. Mr. Holt was warm in praise of the loyal support which had been given him by the members of the executive, and also thanked the active members of the congregation for their assistance in times of anxiety.

Mrs. Maude Hammond, on behalf of the School of Religious Education, described the work performed by that organization. She congratulated the City Temple upon the high qualifications held by the teaching staff in the Sunday school.

Dr. Clem Davies, pastor, reviewed interesting experiences of the movement, declaring that no church in Canada had adopted such a forward-looking statement of belief.

"The City Temple has not been content to stop with the question of personal salvation. It believes that it is the business of the church to educate the individual Christian to influence the social order, so that the world may become a fairer dwelling for the sons of God," Dr. Davies said.

"We believe, therefore, that we must endeavor to transform such un-Christian attitudes and practices as now hinder fellowship, for example, extravagance, luxury, and excessive concentration of power and privilege as a result of vast wealth in the hands of a few, monopoly of natural resources

Sooke Party On, But Bet Report Trifle Twisted

Action of Attorney-General in Committing British Columbia for Grand Jury Abolition Without Consulting Legislature Was Point T. D. Pattullo Raised.

There will be a reception and dance in Sooke and T. D. Pattullo, British Columbia Liberal Leader, will foot the bill, but the reports of a lost bet on the subject of the abolition of grand juries were not exactly as represented, it was learned at Liberal headquarters to-day.

The opposition leader in his speech at the Sooke Community Hall last Saturday was not so much attacking the abolition of the grand juries as the fact that Attorney-General Pooley ignored the Legislature in the matter. Mr. Pooley, Mr. Pattullo pointed out, wrote to Ottawa, saying British Columbia was in favor of the abolition of grand juries before consulting the House. He should first have placed a resolution before the Legislature, the Liberal Leader claimed. He doubted whether the abolition of grand juries was advisable at this particular time. Then the argument arose on the proposed abolition of grand juries when J. W. deB. Parry was Attorney-General. It slipped Mr. Pattullo's mind that he had then voted in favor of their abolition. That, however, was not the point at issue, it is claimed. The criticism was on the action of the Attorney-General in committing British Columbia before he had consulted the House.

But the dance and reception will be held at Mr. Pattullo's expense at a date to be announced.

for private gain; autocratic control of industry by any group; production for individual profit and power rather than for social use and service; arrogance and antagonism of classes, nations and races, and war, the final denial of brotherhood. Owens Slices Irish's Lead In Title

Vancouver Champ Cuts Local Star's Margin About Half

Owens Scores 1,087 Points to Irish's 1,000 in Second Block of 4,000-point Match for B.C. Professional Billiard Crown; Is Only Ninety-eight Points Behind, After Being Down 185 at End of First Session; Sixty-nine by Owens Is Best Break; Third Block To-night

Scoring 1,087 points to Bert Irish's 1,000 Chris. Owens, Vancouver, sliced the lead of the Victoria cueist by nearly half in the second block of their 4,000-point match for the British Columbia professional English billiard championship at the Metro-polis Billiard Parlor yesterday evening. At the end of the first block Irish enjoyed a margin of 185 but when he steps to the table to-night at 7.30 o'clock to start the third session he will only have a lead of ninety-eight to work on. The fourth and final block will be played to-morrow evening.

The second session was featured by considerable defensive play on the part of both players and as a result progress was slow with the players not finishing their evening's work until well after midnight. Another good crowd was in attendance. Irish needed 103 innings to secure his 1,000 points, as compared with seventy-five of the previous evening. Irish had an average of 2.9 for the second block, while Owens was slightly higher with 10.7.

BALLS RUN TOUGH

Both players found difficulty in getting the balls to run, with the result that many safeties were given during the course of the evening's play. A sixty-nine break by Owens was the best run of the evening. Irish's best effort being a fifty-seven. Owens also had breaks of fifty-five and fifty-three. Resuming play, Irish ran his un-completed break of twenty-three to fifty-three to open the match yesterday evening. Owens commenced to cut into his opponent's lead from the start, but Irish came through with a fifty-seven break to turn the score to 1,243 to 1,063. At this stage both players were missing easy shots, usually attempting to get the balls into position. Owens ran a thirty-two, followed by a thirty-nine by Irish. Following a forty-nine break by Irish a recess was called with the scores at Irish 1,529, Owens 1,259.

After a ten-minute rest, Owens stepped to the table to come through with two nice breaks of sixty-nine and fifty-five and the score stood at 1,589 to 1,289. A forty-one break soon after left Owens only ninety-eight points behind. The Vancouver champion continued to score fast and it was not long before he came through with a forty-seven to be only thirty-six points behind Irish. He further reduced Irish's lead to twenty-three, but at this point the Victoria star stepped out and built up his advantage again.

From this stage until the 2,000 point mark was reached, Irish kept adding a few points to his margin and at the half of play was ninety-eight points to the good.

The best breaks of the two players follow:

Irish—53, 59, 49, 29, 37, 34 and 46.

Owens—41, 53, 32, 69, 55, 36, 41, 47, 41 and 30.

Sam Osakes acted as judge of play, while A. McKittick was official scorer.

Yanks and Chicago Cubs Grasp Honors In Sectional Tilts

Former Capture Nine Games From Western Invaders to Jump Into American League Lead; Cubs Win Eight of Twelve Games From Eastern Rivals to Become Top Dogs in National League; Yanks Completed Rout by Nosing Out Cleveland 3 to 2; Grove Pitches A's to Win; Cubs Down Phillies 6 to 4

Returns from the year's first intersectional strife were at hand to-day, and the only outstanding beneficiaries of the movement appeared to be Chicago Cubs in the National League, New York Yankees in the American and the railroads in general.

By sweeping all nine engagements with the invaders from the west, the Yankees had passed Washington and taken a fairly firm grip on first place. The Cubs, winning eight of twelve contests from the National League's eastern delegates, had overhauled Boston Braves and likewise had entrenched themselves at the top.

The Yankees terminated their remarkable streak against the visiting Indians by nosing out Cleveland 3 to 2, on the strength of Babe Ruth's smash into the bleachers in the tenth inning. In so doing they became the first team in American League history to capture fifteen straight games at home, the record book discloses.

Washington bowed to St. Louis Browns, 11 to 7, in a slugfest that produced thirty-three hits and used up four Washington pitchers.

Grove Pitches Well. Lefty Grove's capable pitching and home runs by Fox, Dykes and Simmons featured the Athletics' parting luck at Detroit. The score was 8 to 2. Smead Jolley's hitting, "five for five," helped Boston Red Sox break a six-game losing streak at Chicago's expense, 13 to 10.

Bill Clark, Brooklyn southpaw, checked in with the day's best performance in the National League when he beat Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 2, on four hits.

A big seventh inning in which they scored seven runs and knocked St. John from the peak, gave New York Giants a 9 to 3 victory over Cincinnati. Billy Terry topped off the seventh-inning uprising with his ninth home run of the season.

Charley Grimm continued his batting rampage as the Cubs took their final from the Phillies, 6 to 4.

Led by Wally Berger, who walloped a double and three singles, Boston Braves defeated St. Louis, 5 to 3.

New York, May 19.—Baseball's great showman, Babe Ruth, stepped into the breach at the crucial moment in the tenth inning yesterday and capped a brilliant pitching performance by Henry Johnson with his seventh home run of the season. The homer gave the Yankees a 3 to 1 victory over Cleveland. Johnson, making his first start of the year after being held back by an appendicitis operation, yielded only six hits and fanned a dozen batters.

But he weakened toward the end and allowed the Indians to tie the score. Ruth, the first man up in the tenth, drove one of Cleveland's offerings into the right field bleachers. Bill Dickey also hit a home for the Yanks.

Cleveland, May 19.—The Washington Senators gladly sent the St. Louis Browns on their way yesterday, after dropping four straight games to the invaders, the final, 11 to 7.

Leading the league when the second division Browns arrived, the badly battered Senators finished well established in second place, with the crushing New York Yankee power to face. Four pitchers tried to curb the rampaging St. Louis team yesterday, but Walter Johnson's usual brilliant right-hander, Monte Weaver, did the damage in the eighth and tossed the ball game away.

With a one-run lead, Weaver took Marberry's place, opening the inning. Schulte and Burns walked, Campbell singled with a bunt down the third base line, and two wide pitches to Costin finished Weaver. Goalin greeted Burke with a single, scoring two runs. Ferrell tripped to drive over two more and then himself scored on Melillo's outfield fly.

Myer had a home run, his second in two days. R. H. E. St. Louis 11 7 10 0 Washington 7 16 0 Batteries—Weaver, Coffman and Ferrell; Brown, Marberry, Weaver, Burke and Spencer.

Boston, May 19.—The Boston Red Sox yesterday scored their first win of the season on their home diamond by topping the Chicago White Sox, 13 to 10, in the final game of the series. Five pitchers were slaughtered by the Red Sox broke a six-game losing streak. Smead Jolley, formerly of the White Sox, led the Boston attack, getting four singles and a double in five trips to the plate. Marty Mackmanus, Boston second baseman, injured his leg sliding home in the fifth and was carried off the field. R. H. E. Chicago 10 10 1 Boston 13 18 2 Batteries—Faber, Thomas, Gregory, Fieber, Caraway and Barry; Weiland, Moore, Kline and Tate.

Philadelphia, May 19.—The Athletics captured the series from Detroit, two games to one, by winning the final contest yesterday, 8 to 2.

Three homers featured the assault on Ubbie and Herring. Fox hit his tenth of the season with one on base. Dykes and Simmons accounted for the other two. White hit a homer for Detroit. Grove turned in his fifth straight triumph. R. H. E. Detroit 2 8 11 0 Philadelphia 8 11 0 Batteries—Uble, Herring and Hayworth; Grove and Cochran.

NATIONAL LEAGUE St. Louis, May 19.—The Boston Braves pounded the St. Louis Nationals for twelve hits yesterday to take the final game of the current series, 5 to 3, with Tom Zachary limiting the Cardinals to five safeties. Jesse Haines

Only Sixty to Be Admitted to U.B.C. Course Next Year;
Pass List Issued

About Three-quarters of Entire Class Gain Clear Passes
in Tests

More rigid selection than that made in previous years will limit to sixty the number of students gaining entrance to the education course at the University of British Columbia next fall, it was announced in a note which accompanied the pass list for the teachers' training course at the university. The pass list was released yesterday by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education.

Last fall, the minister stated in his note, 150 university graduates applied for admission to the course. Only two-thirds of this number possessed the requisite entrance requirements. Even more rigid standards in the selection of student personnel will be applied in the fall of 1932, he said. Only sixty candidates will be accepted next year. These will be determined on the basis of merit.

THREE-QUARTERS PASS CLEAR

A little over three-quarters of the total enrolment in the year just completed gained clear passes: eleven of the 106 in the course gaining first class marks, eighty and above. Sixty-nine passed with marks between 68 and 79 per cent, and two gained pass standing. Sixteen others were granted supplemental.

Four of five students who attended for the second term only were passed unranked, and the other gained a pass with supplementals.

Successful students are awarded a diploma in education by the university. A graduate of a Canadian or British university who holds this diploma in education is qualified to receive an academic teacher's certificate from the Department of Education. The academic certificate entitles the holder to teach in any high, junior high or elementary school in the province.

Duncan Postpones

Duncan, May 18.—At a meeting of the "Sweet Pea Festival" committee held Tuesday, it was decided that on account of the lateness of the season the festival will be postponed until July 11 to 14. The arrangements for the entertainment of the party of British tourists will be carried out just the same, however. The historical branch of the Agricultural Society had been asked to hold their summer flower show in conjunction with the festival, but the members decided that this would not be feasible on account of the date. They will, however, have a show of flowers for the visitors, and have promised that the hall shall be a mass of seasonable blooms. Their summer flower show will be held early in June.
